DUBLIN 2019

AN IRISH WORLDCON

What is Worldcon?

The World Science Fiction Convention is one of the longest-running science fiction conventions in the world.

Worldcons include the annual Hugo Awards, a Masquerade, signings, readings, parties, an art show, dealers' room, and multiple tracks of programming running parallel to each other.

Annual conventions in Ireland

The Irish national SF/F convention is Octocon.

The weekend before Dublin 2019 is Dublin Comic Con (www.dublincomiccon.com), held in the same venue. The weekend after Dublin 2019, Eurocon (www.titancon.com) will be in Belfast, hosted by Titancon, an annual Northern Irish convention. Consider extending your trip and attending one or both of these as well.

Memberships

Dublin 2019 offers attending and supporting adult memberships, with concessions for first-time Worldcon attendees and young adults (ages 13 - 26). Memberships for children 12 and under are also available.

We also offer family plans and an instalment plan.
