

BERMUDA TRIANGLE
IN 88

JCC

An uncrowded Worldcon where you can find your friends.

A Worldcon with 24-hour food and facilities

A relaxacon Worldcon.

Bermuda Triangle in '88

(an out of the U.S. bid)

proposes the most congenial venue a Worldcon could have: a Caribbean cruise, a relaxacon Worldcon conceived by experienced confen.

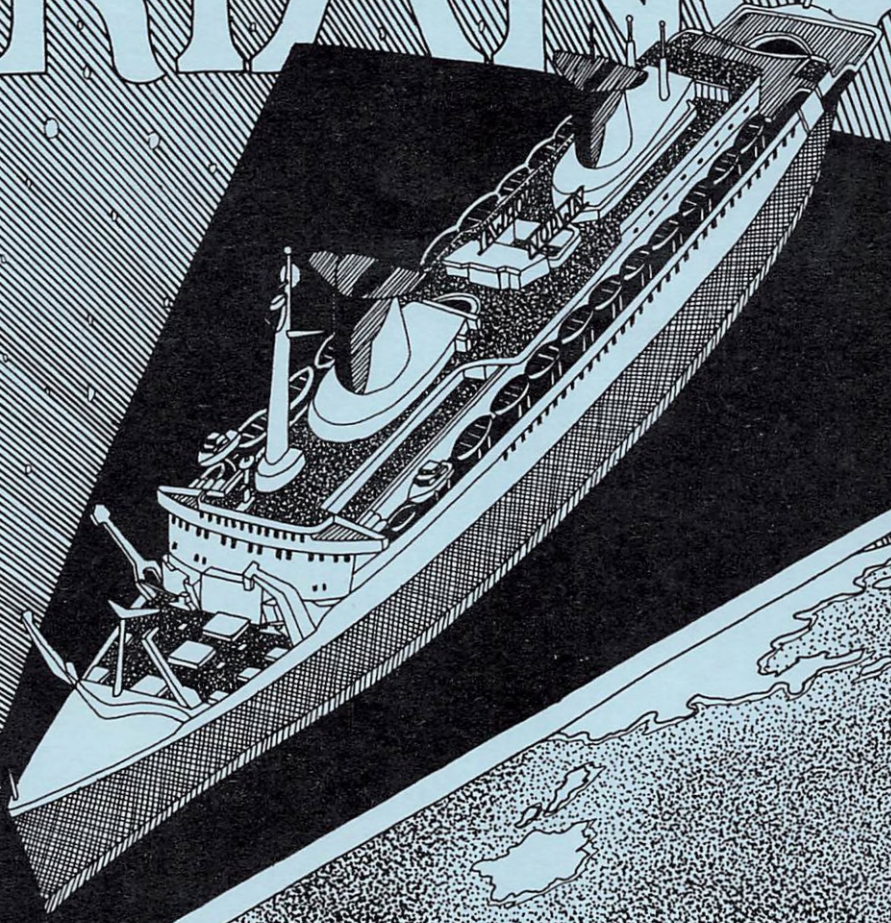

A cruise ship is designed to be used around the clock. Its raison d'être is leisurely partying. Its usual services do half the work of the committee and almost all of the during-the-con gopher work. There already is a daily 'zine, and there's a ballroom for the Masquerade Ball!

We'll officially open the convention with a public address announcement. Ports of call prevent claustrophobia, and offer ocean beaches as a welcome change from swimming pools. A major science item will be turning out everything but running lights half of every night.

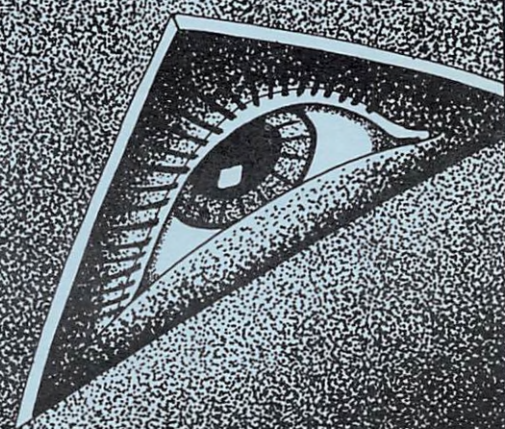

"We don't need no stinking badges
....unless you really want to."

Bermuda Triangle in '88 supports the Cincinnati NASFIC bid.

THE COMMITTEE

Our committee has attended hundreds of cons and worked at all levels, including the top, on many of them. We draw upon an excellent blend of convention and professional experience.

We are dedicated to providing fandom with a new and unique opportunity, a combination of traditional events and a setting unparalleled in Worldcon history.

THE CONVENTION

This convention will carry on the finest Worldcon traditions: hucksters, an art show, a masquerade ball, an extensive film program, multiple tracks of programming, the Hugo Awards, guest of honor speeches, site selection, the WSFS business meeting, and the largest con suite in the world.

The ship's closed circuit TV system provides the convention with the facilities to broadcast live to every cabin all major activities, in addition to a multiple track film program, for those times when you don't want to leave your cabin.

A WORLDCON UNLIKE ANY OTHER

Welcome aboard a cruise unlike any other—7 days and nights of science fiction, sun and fun. The finest elements of a Worldcon combine with the amenities of a world-class luxury cruise ship to provide you with a once-in-a-lifetime experience. The ship will be filled with fun, providing you with the opportunity to do as you please. A world of adventure awaits you outside your cabin door.

THE SHIP

The S.S. Norway is the largest cruise ship in the world. Contrary to popular belief, it's even larger than the Queen Elizabeth II.

	S.S. NORWAY	QE-2
Tonnage	70,202	67,107
Length	1,035 feet	963 feet
Beam	109 feet	105 feet

This ship is soooo big that international symbols are used to help you find your way. Some crew members don't see each other for months on end!

With over 65,000 square feet of open deck in addition to the cabins and function areas, there is an overall feeling of spaciousness (I mean.... we're talking BIG!).

There are 8 passenger decks containing 932 cabins that will accommodate over 2100 passengers. There are additional cabins for the 800 member crew (about 1 crew member for each 2.5 passengers).

The 16 classes of cabins provide an extensive array of accommodations. Class 1, the Grand Deluxe Suites, have a living room, dining room with kitchen, bedroom with king size bed, 2 full baths, multiple color stereo TV's, VCR and a refrigerator. Class 16 cabins (the smallest inside staterooms) have 2 beds, color TV and a bathroom with shower. They are surprisingly spacious. Within this range we are prepared to accommodate your individual tastes and budget.

Every cabin has at least 2 berths and many have 3 or 4 berths. All accommodations in 16 price categories have a color TV, private shower and/or tub, one or two dressing tables, closets and storage space. Some have lounge chairs, a sofa and a refrigerator. Individual A/C controls are provided in all cabins to provide maximum comfort.

Whether you choose luxurious or budget-minded sleeping accommodations, you will receive the same excellent class of service.

DINING

The cost of the cruise includes far more than just a place to sleep. All food served on board the ship (with the exception of the ice cream parlor) is included in your cost.

Three full meals a day are served in the two huge dining rooms. Menus change daily and include French, Scandinavian, Italian, Caribbean and Mexican specialties, plus prime rib, steaks, lobster, shrimp, and other excellent dinner selections. Eggs Benedict, smoked salmon and three-egg omelettes only highlight a wide variety of breakfast choices. Lunch is every bit as enticing, whether you have a full five-course meal or a weight-watchers fresh fruit salad.

If the main dining rooms are inconvenient during the day, just head for the fabulous on-deck selection at the Great Outdoor Restaurant. Hot and cold buffets combine the best of Norwegian smorgasbords with American tastes. Breakfast includes bacon, sausages, eggs, pancakes, waffles and much more. From noon to 3 p.m., there are hot dogs, hamburgers, giant salad bars, fresh fruits and a hot dish of the day. And every night, out comes the Norway's famed midnight buffets.

And if by some chance, none of these options are convenient, there is always room service. Coffee, juice, Danish, finger sandwiches, and ice are available 24 hours a day.

Even special diets can be accommodated with advance notice. The S.S. Norway prides itself in its ability to cater to your every need.

ACTIVITIES/ENTERTAINMENT

Food isn't the only thing free on this cruise. Most of the ship's activities are also included. Besides the normal convention functions, the ship provides a wide variety of amusements: basketball, volleyball, ping pong, racquetball, bike riding, 9 hole miniature golf, a modern gym, swimnastics, backgammon, bridge, bingo, shuffleboard, a 1/4 mile jogging track, aerobic dance, special classes on many different subjects, Fannish Olympics, and a lot more.

The normal ship entertainment is also excellent (and free). Three times a week, The Norway proudly presents a full-blown Broadway production. Also, there's "Sea Legs '88", the biggest and most extravagant revue in the history of cruising and comparable to some of the best shows in Vegas. Handsome guys, gorgeous girls, a dozen sets and costume changes, and a sizzling pace are trademarks of this totally professional company. In addition to these productions, big name stars in concert vary weekly. The 1986 line-up includes The Fifth Dimension, Helen Reddy, Diahann Carroll, the Smothers Brothers, Petula Clark, Rita Moreno, Jerry Lewis, Vic Damone, and Jack Jones. Fortunately, the convention has a large say in who will be appearing during our cruise.

Some activities cost extra, but are worth it. For those interested, they provide massages, trapshooting, snorkeling, a golf driving range, stores to shop in, plus tours that are available while in ports-of-call and duty-free shopping both on and off ship.

FACILITIES

The S.S. Norway also boasts a wide variety of facilities. The entertainment continues as you enjoy the 10 open bars, three swimming pools (one indoors), sauna, health club, 1000 book library, card room, video game room, disco, movie theater, numerous lounges and, of course, the Monte Carlo Room Casino. It claims honors as the largest casino afloat, featuring 180 slot machines, eight blackjack tables, roulette, and a crap table (the casino isn't free, unless you win).

This city afloat also includes a hospital, TV studio, printing facility, both satellite and high seas telecommunication facilities (telephone, telegram and telex), a photo gallery featuring pictures taken daily during the cruise by the ship's photographer (copies available for a nominal fee), laundry and dry cleaning facilities, safety deposit boxes, postal facilities, beauty salon/barber shop...all in ONE convenient location. While at sea, there are no streets to cross! When the ship stops at the scenic and exotic ports-of-call, the streets are WELL worth crossing.

CURRENT ITINERARY

Saturday	Miami	8:00 a.m.	—

(Like the entertainers, the convention has a large say in where we go and when.)

NASSAU

Capitol of the Bahamas, Nassau is the largest city on the island of New Providence. Its chief assets are miles upon miles of white sand beaches and crystal clear water. Cable Beach and Paradise Island are two of the most famous sun and surf spots in this idyllic group of islands. Nassau itself is a beautiful city with pink and white colonial-style houses lining palm-shaded streets. This one-time pirate haven has become a center for the world's largest "straw" market, an opportunity to find bargains in luxury goods including prized black coral.

There are many excellent tours available on the island. Of particular interest to those immersed in fantasy are the underground dungeons in historic Fort Charlotte. Other picturesque tours include the Yellow Bird Catamaran harbor cruise and the Ardastra Gardens with its flamingos and other tropical birds.

This fascinating blend of the familiar with the exotic, the modern with the historic and the mundane with the majestic gives Nassau its very special appeal. Whether you choose to spend your time ashore relaxing on the beach, strolling through centuries of history, trying every type of cuisine or discovering the island's many fine attractions, Nassau is certain to be a memorable stop.

ST. THOMAS

This delightful island is the second largest of the Virgin Islands, and is the most exciting. It has most everyone's idea of the perfect Caribbean island with the right mix of everything. Whitewashed red-roofed houses overlook a picturesque harbor lined with expensive yachts. Magens Bay boasts one of the world's 10 most beautiful beaches. Naturally, there are watersports galore in St. Thomas. The clear waters are said to be among the best diving waters in the world, second only to those of the Great Barrier Reef. Many optional excursions and tours are available for your pleasure. Ride a Kon Tiki glass-bottom boat on a land/sea safari to nearby St. John's Island; tour the 300-year-old Bluebeard's Castle; sail the Caribbean. St. Thomas also boasts Coral World, with the only underwater observation tower in the Western Hemisphere.

ST. MAARTEN

This island in the Netherland Antilles is unspoiled and unique with two distinct personalities, cultures and lifestyles. Half the island is French, while the rest is Dutch. Like the other islands, St. Maarten offers excellent beaches, golf and tennis, gambling casinos, duty-free shopping and many optional excursions that are designed to spoil you. These tours include: Maison Maru catamaran cruise; Mullet Bay Beach Party with buffet lunch and drinks; St. Barths excursion by catamaran; "Dive-in" snorkeling tour to Pinal Island; and much more.

If the normal organized tours don't interest you, enjoy seeing this special island on your own. Wander the many spectacular beaches or have a romantic lunch in a French cafe where the waves come right up to the building.

THE PRIVATE ISLAND

The cruise saves the best for last, the private island. Here, fantasies can come true. The S.S. Norway invites everyone on board to a WorldCon-only beach party. Join us for a day of play in an idyllic tropical cove set far, far away from the rest of the maddening world.

It's a truly heavenly place. With a bright sun overhead and dozens of palm trees swaying in the sea breeze, you can work on a tan or a fabulous shell collection. There's also some beautiful blue water out there, looking so calm it's hard to imagine the brilliant color that lies waiting to be explored just beneath the surface. If you've never had the chance to try on a snorkeling mask and fins before, now's the time. We promise one spectacular show you won't want to see end.

Everyone is invited to a wonderful outdoor picnic with all the fixings, compliments of NCL and the S.S. Norway.

To provide easy access to all these wonders, the S.S. Norway carries two tenders on deck, each capable of transporting 450 passengers to and from ports-of-call.

BABYSITTING

For the little ones, the ship provides Troll Land, a playroom full of the child's equivalent of adult toys. It is open daily and when the ship is in port. There will be some additional child care available (the more people who request it in advance, the more extensive the services that we will provide).

HANDICAPPED FACILITIES

There are 17 cabins that have been modified to accommodate wheelchairs. All levels of the ship are accessible by elevator except the uppermost deck which has one of the three pools and the racquetball court.

COSTS

The cost of the cruise varies with your choice of sleeping accommodations and the number of people in your cabin.

Prices start at $695 per person. There are over 1000 berths available for under $1000. The average price of all berths is under $1100 per person with over 90% of the berths priced at under $1400.

For those interested in the finest of accommodations, suites start at $1590 per person.

This ship is sooooo big that they have international symbols to help you find your way around.

As reported in Frommer's Dollarwise Guide to Cruises, One crew member told us that when he met a friend in a corridor aboard one day, the other fellow welcomed him back from vacation. "But I wasn't on vacation at all," the crewman reported. "I just hadn't seen that guy aboard for three months!"

It carries 2 tenders on deck that hold 450 passengers each for transportation to and from ports of call.

With over 65,000 square feet of open deck in addition to the cabins and function areas, there is an overall feeling of spaciousness (I mean.... we're talking BIG!).
