Dealers' Directory

Greetings,

We hope you find shopping in the NOREASCON TWO Dealers' Room a pleasant experience. We have made every attempt to provide as varied a selection as possible. There are dealers here from all over the country, and some from overseas. This is one of the largest collections of science fiction, fantasy, and related material available for sale in one location. We hope you find what you have been looking for.

We have prepared this directory as a guide to what's available in the Dealers' Room. Each dealer has provided a listing of what he or she will be selling, and they have highlighted those items they feel are of particular interest or importance. If you are looking for something in particular, we recommend that you use this directory as a guide to those dealers who are offering what you want. If you would rather browse, then you will find the directory useful for keeping track of what you have seen, and what you would like to see again. Also, many of the dealers offer mail-order services, so you will want to keep this directory for future reference.

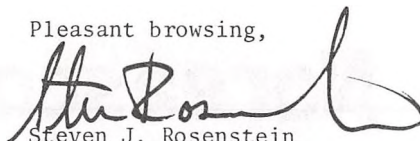

One of the features of the Dealers' Room will be the Convention-sponsored autograph sessions at the specially designated tables (see map in the centerfold). The schedules of author sessions will be posted around the Convention. If you already have something you would like autographed, then just go to the appropriate area at the proper time. If you would like to purchase a book or some other item for an author to sign, then look in the directory for those dealers whose listings are starred with an asterisk (*), or on the map for the darkened tables. These dealers have indicated that they will be providing material of one form or another (mostly books) by many of the authors who will be autographing.

The main body of the Dealers' Directory consists of the individual dealer listings, and these are in table order. In the centerfold along with the room layout is an index of dealers in alphabetical order. This directory is not complete as there were tables sold after it was printed. You might want to make note of them on the last page.

Please understand that all of the dealers in the Dealers' Room are required to collect the 5% Massachusetts sales tax on all items except those specifically exempted by the state. They feel as badly about collecting it as you do about paying it, so please don't give the dealers a hard time.

We hope your excursions through the Dealers' Room prove fruitful and rewarding.

Pleasant browsing,

Steven J. Rosenstein
