Recent and forthcoming titles

Christopher Priest

AN INFINITE SUMMER

An Infinite Summer, Whores
Palely Loitering
The Negation, The Watched

'Mr Priest obtains his effect by quiet infiltration rather than by storm, and the originality of his imagination ensures that they linger on in the mind.' Christopher Wordsworth in the Guardian

Roger Zelazny

MY NAME IS LEGION

Three exciting 'mission impossible' stories are contained in this latest collection from a master of fantasy, including Home is the Hangman – already famous in the United States and winner of the Hugo award in 1976. £4.95

Richard Francis

BLACKPOOL VANISHES

'Its strength is in the admirably controlled tone, quietly funny but capable of producing telling shocks at the turn of a page, and in characters who emerge convincingly whether they are drinking in the Abandoned Child or walking over a sinister earthwork known as the Buttock.' Norman Shrapnel in the Guardian £4.50

Garry Kilworth

SPLIT SECOND

In the terrifying second of splitting and fusion young Richard Levan, whose archaeologist father is digging in Cyprus, finds himself sharing a body with Esk, a boy of his own age in the Paleolithic world. What happens next makes gripping reading. October £5.95

Ned Crawford

NAMING THE ANIMALS: A HAUNTING

What future is there for a man who begins to question the validity of the world he inhabits and doubts its most fundamental values? Thomas Bolt becomes a fugitive, seeking to defend his own version of the truth by flight and subterfuge. Equally inevitably, he is pursued. November £5.50

Coming in Spring 1980

Roger Zelazny

COURTS OF CHAOS

The long awaited final volume in Zelazny's 'Amber' series.

C. D. Evans

CAPELLA'S GOLDEN EYES

The assurance, originality and sheer narrative power of Evans's writing combine to produce a remarkable first novel.

Michael Vyse

THE OUTER REACHES

A talented new writer explores the outer reaches of imagination and experience in this collection of short stories.
