INTRODUCTION

With the publication of H. P. Lovecraft's The Outsider and Others in 1939, the ARKHAM HOUSE imprint appeared for the first time. Under the editorship of August Derleth until his death in 1971, ARKHAM HOUSE became established as the premier imprint in the science fiction and fantasy field, specializing in the weird, supernatural and horror sectors, and new titles are still being published under the imprint today. The MYCROFT & MORAN imprint first appeared on August Derleth's "In Re: Sherlock Holmes", the Adventures of Solar Pons in 1945. Although the titles published under the MYCROFT & MORAN imprint are primarily detective stories, I have included them since most of the books were written by August Derleth and several of them have a strong supernatural element.

Of the major science fiction and fantasy publishers, ARKHAM HOUSE is probably the most avidly collected, with strong competition from the Donald M. Grant imprint and the plated editions of Lloyd Eshbach's Fantasy Press. Retail prices in the used book market have escalated tremendously in the last few years and a mint set of ARKHAM HOUSE and MYCROFT & MORAN books, if sold as individual volumes, would probably bring in $7,500 to $8,500 today. Many of the scarcer titles are already in the $200 to $500 range.

One of the major factors in the high prices demanded for the ARKHAM HOUSE books has been the relatively small number of copies which have been published, especially for the poetry collections where editions of 750 copies or less have been common. Of course, if you consider H. P. Lovecraft's The Shunned House to be a true ARKHAM HOUSE publication, there can only be 100 complete collections containing the hard bound state and only 80 complete sets if you feel that the hard bound state of August Derleth's Arkham House, The First 20 Years should be included.

COLLATOR'S NOTE

The information set forth in this listing is based primarily on my collection. However, since I do not have copies of all of the editions of some titles or all of the variant states, I have relied on data from a number of sources to make this listing more informative. I am especially indebted to L. W. Currey, Jack Chalker and Roy A. Squires for their assistance.

To help identify the true first edition in certain instances, I have included supplementary information below the entry for that book in the author section of the listing. Other notes appear on the last page.
