

LIBERTY CON 31

Chattanooga Marriott Downtown and Convention Center

Welcome to LibertyCon 31!

by Brandy Bolgeo Spraker, Chairman

Welcome to LibertyCon, the family you get to choose! This year, we have so many amazing things to do that you'll need to go home and take a few more days off of work to rest up. Our first year at the newly renovated Marriott hotel and Convention Center allows us to continue to expand our programming events -- because you can never have too many choices! We will have maps everywhere so that you can find all of the nooks and crannies (and actual rooms) where things are happening. It's always a good idea to simply take a walk in both of the buildings so that when you have that special event that you just can't miss, you won't be running around looking for it in our new space.

With our perfect size of no more than 750 paid attendees, you'll get to spend plenty of time with this year's all star lineup -- Literary Guest of Honor Mike Resnick, Artist Guest of Honor John Picacio, our Science Guest of Honor Dr. Kevin Grazier, our Special Guest David B. Coe/D.B. Jackson and our Master of Ceremonies Chuck Gannon. LibertyCon is lucky to have these amazing professionals at the top of their game. We also have a host of other guests throughout the weekend, many of them former Guests of Honor who simply like to come back and hang out with us every now and again.

The first thing that we all do when we get to a convention is to check into the hotel and pick up badges at the registration desk. When you get there you'll get this program book and the badge with the gorgeous cover art that John graciously agreed to let us use. You'll also get to browse our limited t-shirts for sale (I hope you preordered!) by our long time family artist Melissa Gay. You are going to love our Lady Liberty this year, modeled after the talented Lorraine Flegal, wife of our previous AGoH Sam Flegal. Be jealous, because the original is mine!

As always, LibertyCon continues to host the most talented authors, artists and scientists from around the country to spend the weekend with you in more than 270 programming events! We have over 160 professionals who participate in discussions and workshops in the areas of literature, art, science, and other fandom topics! There is just too much to list here, so please take a look at everything that we have to choose from using either the pocket program or the LibertyCon app. And speaking of John Picacio, don't miss his Loteria game, it's a blast!

The Artshow, as it has been from the beginning, has work from many of the best artists in the country for sale at prices that you could never match anywhere else. The Art Auction on Saturday night will host the pieces that people are warring over as well as some of the charity pieces. This year our charity of choice is the Chattanooga Room at the Inn. This charity is a three to nine month residential program for homeless women and children. Services include transitional housing, three meals a day, access to affordable or free health care, life skills training, parenting classes, assistance with finding affordable housing and so much more. So come bid on the charity items sold in the Artshow as part of a silent auction, and those bigger items in our Art Auction, an event not to miss!

This year you can find Vonn and her ConSuite crew on the 16th floor in the Presidential Suite. There will be food and beer galore, so pull up a chair and enjoy the company! And speaking of room parties, don't forget to visit the 16h floor each evening to browse the goodies and drinks that our amazing room party hosts and hostesses are offering.

Our Huckster Room is chocked full of goodies for you to purchase... from leather goods to of course books (because what would LibertyCon be without books??) you will find many things to tempt you and drain your wallet. And remember that the Huckster Room is also host to our author autograph sessions, so keep an eye on the schedule. You don't want to miss these guys!

As you can see, there really is something for everyone this weekend. And none of it would be possible without our wonderful staff. Each and every one of these people spend their time, effort and love to make this a fun and relaxing weekend. When you see someone with a staff badge, please thank them. Or better yet, please volunteer a few hours in a department that seems fun to you -- it's a great way to meet people and give back to our fandom community.

LibertyCon Rules

(AKA The Things We Have To Tell You)

"How dreadful..to be caught up in a game and have no idea of the rules."

- Caroline Stevermer, Sorcery & Cecelia or The Enchanted Chocolate Pot

ATTENDEES 17 YEARS OLD AND UNDER

All convention attendees who are 17 years of age or younger must be accompanied by a LEGAL GUARDIAN. A Legal Guardian is a person 21 years of age or older who will take financial and legal responsibility for the minor and will sign for each minor person for which he/she is responsible. A parent or Legal Guardian must accompany children under 7 years of age at all times.

BADGES

Badges must be worn in plain sight above the waist at all times.

If you have a question or concern,
don't hesitate to ask or talk to STAFF

BATHING

Remember, "If in doubt, take a bath!" Your fellow attendees will appreciate your courteous actions.

DRINKING AGE is 21! ~ IT IS THE LAW! ~ NOT UP FOR NEGOTIATION!

To get a drinking badge you must produce a VALID military ID or Drivers License with your picture on it to prove that you are at least 21 years of age. Minors caught drinking at LibertyCon will be hung, drawn, quartered, and thrown out of the convention. Also..

WE WILL CONTACT YOUR PARENTS AND/OR THE LAW - AND YOU WILL NOT BE ALLOWED TO RETURN TO FUTURE LIBERTYCONS!

ROOM PARTIES

If you are having a room party, remember, this is the South: We are friendly and inclusive. If your party is approved by Brandy and in a hotel room on the Party Floor with the door open then the expectation is that the party is open to all LibertyCon attendees. If your party is intended to be private then please keep your door shut so that misunderstandings and hurt feelings don't occur. Also, Tennessee State Law does not allow the consumption of alcohol for anyone under 21 years of age. If you are serving alcohol, please check everyone's ID. YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS NO MATTER WHERE YOUR PARTY IS LOCATED. LibertyCon will not assume any responsibility to check badges for any type of party. Don't assume if someone has a drinking badge that they are 21 or over... badges can be swapped.

GRILLS & OUTDOOR COOKING

No grills are allowed on the hotel premises. The hotel has informed us that this violates their insurance policy. We like the hotel management and would like to keep our great relationship with them.

EJECTION FROM THE CONVENTION

If you are ejected from LibertyCon because of violation of the convention rules or Tennessee State Law, then your attendance fees will not be refunded.

LOST BADGE POLICY

If you lose your badge at the convention, then you will have to purchase another one at the full admission price of $50. We are sorry to take this rough stance, but incidents with people (Not Fans) purchasing a replacement badge to give/sell to a friend at a reduced price only increases the cost of the convention for real fans and this is the only way we can curb it.

SPECIAL MEDICAL NEEDS

If you have a medical condition, please ask the registration staff for a sticker for the back of your badge. This sticker should contain the nature of your medical condition and any special steps to be taken in an emergency, including the name and phone number of the person to contact should the need arise.

WEAPONS POLICY

All weapons and models of weapons must be "Peace Bonded" by one of our security staff before they may be worn with your costume or normal wearing apparel. This weapons policy will be strictly enforced.

ATTIRE

We at LibertyCon love costumes! However three strategically placed seashells does not constitute a costume. Please remember that we are a family friendly convention.

Literary Guest of Honor

Mike Resnick

Mike Resnick – Appreciatively

by Jody Lynn Nye

If you happen to be hanging out in the con suite and hear a man with a slightly nasal but resonant baritone voice talking very loudly about breeding dogs, the Cincinnati Bengals, or horse racing, there's a good chance that you're within earshot of your Guest of Honor and maybe the hardest working writer in science fiction, Mike Resnick. Look for a broad grin bracketed by Azimovian mutton-chop sideburns, pull up a chair, and join what I know will be an interesting conversation.

You might look at Mike as something of an overachiever. In the fifty-one years since he began publishing science fiction, Mike has turned out forty-nine novels in eleven different series plus twenty-six others, alone or in collaboration. He's put out a host of nonfiction books; edited dozens of anthologies, alone or with a co-editor; published mystery novels; written screenplays (one almost produced!); and edited magazines including Baen's Universe and Galaxy's Edge. On top of those, he has published over 280 short stories at the time I write this, and could easily have added a dozen more in the interim. He submits his work not only to English-language markets, but to countless foreign publishers as well. He is also one of the fiction judges for the Writers of the Future, the largest speculative fiction contest in the world. He and author Barry Malzberg carried on a witty, years-long conversation in the pages of SFWA Bulletin on the state of publishing and other topics of interest. Mike is well known for his sense of humor, and has published novels, short stories and anthologies with a humorous theme, such as Shaggy BEM Stories, Girls for the Slime God, or This is My Funniest. His delightful wife Carol is his constant advisor, and partner in crime on convention costume design, most notably their The Avengers of Space burlesque tableau, four costumes constructed for less than a hundred dollars which won Best in Show at NorthAmeriCon. Their daughter, Laura Resnick, is also a successful science-fiction and romance writer, a Campbell-award winner, and a columnist for Novelists, Inc.

Mike has been nominated for more Hugo awards than anyone else, thirty-seven times, and won five of them. He has won the Galaxy Award from China for Most Popular Foreign Author as well as numerous other awards, both domestic and international.

Hanging out with Mike you might spot a number of female writers. This is not just because Mike is a wonderful raconteur and a charming man (how'm I doing, boss?)*, but he has also made a long practice of sharing his byline with many up-and-coming writers he calls his "writer daughters," including such co-authors as Campbell-nominated Lezli Robyn. Working with Mike has given talented newcomers a boost in visibility as well as guidance from one of the most experienced pros in the business. Last year, the Writers of the Future recognized Mike's generosity with the L. Ron Hubbard Lifetime Achievement Award.

Take your opportunity to get to know Mike this weekend. He's very approachable, and has a great story for every occasion. Mike and Carol have traveled widely, especially in Africa, bred prize-winning collies, and have been a part of SF fandom since the 1960s. You'll almost certainly come away with your own story about Mike himself.

Artist Guest of Honor

John Picacio

Sometime around the turn of the millennium, I was in a convention in Texas. I'd just met the late great Graham Joyce, who told me that I had to meet a "young artist" he'd himself just encountered named John Picacio. Graham was strangely insistent, but whether I would have listened to him or not, I don't know. However, as it turns out, when I left Graham, and walked maybe thirty paces away, I see this guy, dressed in his signature all black and showing someone work in his black portfolio, and think, "That's got to be him." I go up to him when he's finished and say, "Are you John Picacio? Because Graham Joyce says we should meet."

And that was history.

John and I hit it off pretty much instantly. We were both just starting out. He'd done a small press cover for a Michael Moorcock reissue; I'd worked in a dot com in the ebook space that was SF&F-friendly, and we were each of us taking our first steps into seriously pursuing genre as a full-time career. I was trying to put together a small press anthology drawn from the aforementioned dot com, and John agreed to do the cover.

And thus began a collaboration that would last for the next 14 years, and a friendship that's still ongoing. Right from the start, I was impressed by John's dedication and drive. In those early days, we kept each other's enthusiasm high, spring-boarding off the other's passion, our lives moving in freakish parallel as I went from freelance editing to creating and running an imprint for a mid-sized publisher and he went from success to greater success as an illustrator. When I expanded my job to become an art director, we did a lot of covers together. Those were vital efforts, two guys that weren't afraid to butt heads in the service of the work, and the results always showed. Along the way, John went on to work with every major SF&F publisher, providing cover illustrations for novels by greats like Harlan Ellison, James Dashner, Brenda Cooper, Robert Silverberg, Jeffrey Ford, and George R.R. Martin.

And as his work went from highpoint to highpoint, the awards came rolling in. Hugos, Chesleys, Locus, International Horror Guild, World Fantasy Awards. (We flew to Japan together for my first Hugo nomination, his second or third.) Over nearly two decades, I've watched my buddy go from a young artist starting out to one of the most celebrated and recognized visionaries in the field. And now, with his Loteria project, he's reaching beyond the field into whole new explorations of fantasy intersecting culture.

Eighteen years on, and I don't think I've ever seen his drive or discipline waver even once. He's never been less than a consummate professional, phenomenally dedicated to his craft, and yet equally dedicated to serving the needs of his clients, deeply knowledgeable about the history of art and illustration (both within and without genre), and magnificently generous to his contemporaries in the field.

I'm deeply proud to know him, honored to call him friend, and I can't wait to see what he brings to us in the next decade.

Special Guest of Honor

DB Jackson/ David B. Coe

I met David B. Coe at a writers con in South Carolina in the year 2007. We took one look at each other and were BFFs. It was that that instant almost-recognition that makes people believe in past lives and old friends again-once-met. He was also the author of my very favorite epic fantasy series, the LonTobyn Chronicle (first released in 1997), which had been recommended to me by my local Waldenbooks back when I was first thinking about trying to write in the fantasy genre. I was the tongue tied fangirl, because I hadn't realized the Famous Author would be at the con. Mind you, I had a good fifteen or more mystery/thriller novels under my belt then, under another name, but I was totally star struck. And we've been besties ever since.

David plays amazing guitar, has a wonderful singing voice, and is an avid birdwatcher who travels all over to catalogue and observe and photograph birds. Yes, he's also a fantastic nature photographer, specializing in landscapes and macro-photography, whose work should be available on the commercial market. Hint, hint—David, make it so!

He's a man who appreciates a good scotch—preferable old and finely bottled—nice beer and sushi, though maybe not all at once. Buy him a scotch, make him play guitar for you, then get him to do a reading of his work. That is a marvelous evening's entertainment if you can finagle it. A renaissance man of the finest order.

Dr. David B. Coe (yes, he has a PhD in U.S. 20th Century Environmental History) is a doting father of two adult daughters, a loving husband to a brilliant, beautiful, and accomplished wife, and a man of honor. He has the rare ability to see people as individuals and not shove them into comfy niches based on what they write, what their religion or ethnicity is, or how their politics lean. He's a good listener, an eloquent speaker, and an excellent writing teacher. He is a good and faithful friend. And a good man. I could not be happier that he is being honored at this, LibertyCon 31 in his hometown.

A full time writer from the very beginning of his career, David is the author of twenty novels and as many short stories, and he started off his career with a bang. The LonTobyn Chronicle (my introduction to his work) won the William L. Crawford Fantasy Award in 1999 as the best new fantasy. He followed it up with the critically acclaimed Winds of the Forelands and Blood of the Southlands series. He's a versatile writer, not trapped in one genre, and he branched out a few years back into contemporary urban fantasy with the trilogy (so far) of the Case Files of Justis Fearsson published by Baen Books, and the four books (so far) of his historical fantasy series the Thieftaker Chronicles published by Tor, under the pen name D.B. Jackson. He has done a movie tie-in and an audio tie-in, and he has new projects under his belt and ready to be announced.

He can write anything.

David's books have been translated into a dozen languages.

Faith Hunter

Faith Hunter is author of the Jane Yellowrock series, the Soulwood series, and the Rogue Mage series, as well as over a dozen mysteries, thrillers, and police procedurals under two pennames.

HONOR'S FINISHING WHAT SHE STARTED

Honor Harrington has worn the Star Kingdom's uniform for half a century. Very few people know war the way Honor Harrington does. Very few have lost as many men and women, friends and family, as she has. Yet despite that, hers has been a voice of caution, and the strategy she supports has been working: the Solarian Navy finally realizes it cannot face an Alliance battle fleet and win.

But now, the Solarian League Navy has committed atrocities such as the galaxy has not known in a thousand years. And they have finally killed too many of the people Honor Harrington loves. Hers is the voice of caution and compromise no longer, and the galaxy is about to see something it has never imagined.

Honor Harrington is coming for the Solarian League, and Hell is coming in her wake.

Vengeance for the Star Kingdom

Travis Long has risen from humble beginnings to become one of the Royal Manticoran Navy's most valuable assets. With a penchant for the rules—and an uncanny ability to think outside of them—he's foiled plots from within and without the Star Kingdom. Twice he's saved the RMN, but now he faces his greatest challenge yet. One that will test his mettle as an officer and as a man of honor. Vengeance is calling—and Travis Uriah Long is willing and able to answer!

The newest installment in the Manticore Ascendant series from New York Times best-selling authors David Weber and Timothy Zahn and Honorverse expert Thomas Pope.

The Best of the Best!

Fifteen tales of edge-of-your-seat adventure and military derring-do! Includes the Honorverse novella "Our Sacred Honor" by David Weber!

Master of Ceremonies

Charles E. Gannon

CHARLES E. GANNON:
WORLDS BUILDER

by Toni Weisskopf

Chuck Gannon does not think small. Some writers think in short story arcs. Chuck does that. In fact, that's how I was first introduced to his work, back in the 1990s, working in Jerry Pournelle's Warworld universe, and then much later working in David Weber's Honorverse. Some writers think of novel arcs. Chuck does that, too, as when he stepped seamlessly into Weber & White's Starfire series of novels working with Steve White, or working with Eric Flint in the 1632 universe. But not a lot of writers come to me with a multi-world, multi-arc planned and populated universe for their first solo novel proposal. But Chuck did. And of the writers who do come so prepared, a vanishingly small number can pull it off. But Chuck did.

Chuck's early writing years were spent in the gaming world, writing modules for the great SF game Traveller, and other GDW RPGs, including Twilight 2000, Dark Conspiracy, and 2300 AD. He took a detour to work in broadcast television, get a PhD from Fordham University, and to raise a family. (He didn't think small there, either; he's got four kids who keep him hopping.) During that time, his nonfiction work Rumors of War and Infernal Machines won the 2006 ALA Choice Award for Outstanding Book. So you get the idea that what he turns his hand to, he succeeds at.

It is one of Chuck's virtues as a convention panelist and as a writer that he can take complex issues, see the arguments on all sides, and distill them down into statements understandable by those who have not spent decades studying them. His experience as a Fulbright scholar and a university professor have stood him in good stead here. He is comfortable in front of an audience, and well able to hold his own in any intellectual forum, yea even unto Facebook. I was first made aware of this ability we served on convention panels and he was able to present my arguments better than I could myself.

He has been tapped to be a member of SIGMA, the science fiction writers military advisory think tank, and has been a subject matter expert for various intelligence and defense agencies. But luckily for us, what he really wants to do is write science fiction. And that he does with glorious enthusiasm, drawing readers into his worlds and taking them on amazing voyages.

Like Heinlein's Have Space Suit, Will Travel, each section of Gannon's Terran Republic series opens the universe up a little bit more. Just when you think you've figured out the big reveal, it turns out there's a bigger reveal. Gannon's work builds on what has gone before. He is aware of Doc Smith, and Heinlein, and Pournelle, and Brin; but his work is uniquely his own. So by all means, start with Fire with Fire, and binge your way through Trial by Fire, Raising Caine, Caine's Mutiny and on to Marque of Caine (all proudly from Baen, the last forthcoming in Summer 2019). You will have a rollicking good time!

For your additional hobnobbing pleasure So... Many... PROS!!!

Here are some of the many pros scheduled to attend LibertyCon 31 as of printing.
Though, this list is subject to change without notice.

Michael J. Allen A bestselling author of science fiction and fantasy novels, Michael J. Allen is best known for his SCION YA space opera series and his Bittergate contemporary fantasies. A former submarine reactor operator, cooking enthusiast, and Starfleet International officer, he's enjoying teenager free days experimenting with diabetic recipes and expanding his published works.

Quincy J. Allen Quincy is the nationally best-selling author of the Blood War Chronicles, Endgame Trilogy, and Colt the Outlander. When MysterySceneMag.com said his novel Chemical Burn begins and ends in violence, piling up a body count seldom achieved in more straightforward thrillers, he knew he had found his super power.

Arlan Andrews Dr. Arlan Andrews, Sr., has been an SF fan since age 10, an SF writer for 38 years, and a retired engineer for 5 years. He is an active futurist, consultant, and SF writer, and the founder of SIGMA, the science fiction think tank. Among his more than 500 publications of all kinds are recent SF stories in the Mensa Bulletin, in Astounding Frontiers magazine, and in the Superservice Planetary Anthologies.

Steve Antczak Stephen L. Antczak is a writer who lives with an artist and a dog in Atlanta. He is a regular contributor to the PBS-affiliated web site, NextAvenue.org. He also writes fiction, with over 40 short stories published, and screenplays, with several short films and 2 feature films produced. He has written comic books, graphic novels, and plays. His novels God Drug and The Oracle Paradox are published by Digital Fiction Publishing based in Windsor, Ontario.

Lou Antonelli Lou's had 115 short stories published since 2013. He was a 2013 finalist for the Sidewise Award in Alternate History for Great White Ship (Daily Science Fiction - May 2012, a two-time Hugo nominee (Short Story, Best Related Work) in 2015, and 2017 finalist for the Dragon Award in Alternate History.

Atlanta Radio Theater Company ARTC is a professional troupe that brings "new old-time radio", complete with lush soundscapes, stirring music, and original stories guaranteed to remind you that... There is Adventure in Sound!

Charity Ayres Charity Ayres is a Sci-Fi/Fantasy/ Paranormal author. She was a contributing author on A Fistful of Credits and is a Navy veteran, wife, mom, and high school teacher. She teaches workshops with "Agile Writers" and through "Hampton Roads Writers." Works: Loki Bound, Loki: Hellbound, Secret in the Wings, and Ice Burns.

Jonathan David Baird Happily married and living in Lenoir, North Carolina, Jonathan Baird is retired from Archaeology in 2011 after 15 years doing field work. He has Masters degrees in American History (with a focus on the colonial frontier) and English Literature (with a focus on Gothic horror).

Scott W. Baker Scott W. Baker's students think it's weird that he teaches math and writes. To him, it's a natural fit. His short stories span the speculative genres and have appeared in places like Escape Pod, Daily Science Fiction, and Writers of the Future. He lives in Murfreesboro, TN and online at scottwbaker.net.

Griffin Barber A veteran police officer, Griffin Barber is also a lifelong Speculative Fiction fan and avid gamer. He's had several shorts published in the Grantville Gazette and co-authored 1636: Mission to the Mughals, with Eric Flint. He also penned a well-received novella for RSI's website called: A Separate Law. <http://therantinggriffin.blogspot.com>

Jeff Barnes Jeff Barnes is a lead safety engineer for the FAA. He is a regular contributor to the Sha'Daa Tales of the Apocalypse shared universe anthology. And if he looks familiar, it is because he has been a regular in Chattanooga fandom since ChattaCon 3!

Paul Barrett Paul has been writing since he was eight years old. He is a movie producer with two feature films (Cold Storage, Night Feeders) and three published novels (A Whisper of Death, The Malaise Falchion, Knight Errant.) He is currently working on A Cry of Decay, the follow up to A Whisper of Death. He lives in North Carolina.

Jim Beall Jim Beall (BS-Math, MBA, PE) has been a nuclear engineer for 40+ years, a wargamer for 50+, and an avid reader of science fiction for even longer. Experience: operations (nuclear officer USN), design (Duke Power), construction (United Engineers & Constructors), inspection (USNRC), and energy policy (USNRC Commissioner Reactors Assistant).

James "JD" Beckwith J.D. Beckwith — a mechanical engineer with delusions of writing grandeur. He writes, reads, plays tabletop & RPG games, grows tomatoes, herds cats, and hides out in the woods of Northwest Georgia. His first novel, eConscience Beta (Sci-Fi/ Technothriller/ Comedy) was self-published in 2017. His Blog: Words from the Wampuscat (wampuscatenterprises @wordpress.com)

Laura Bielaczyc Laura Bielaczyc is a maker and refuses to be tied down to any one medium. Her passion is crafting, whether it be sewing, building, leather work, or the like. Her most recent endeavor is weaving together small bits of nature, encapsulating them in little glass domes.

Michael Bielaczyc Michael Bielaczyc has been making art his whole life. In fact, he doesn't spend much time not creating new things. He is a founder and lead make up FX artist at Aradani Studios, creating masks and appliances for people all across the world. He is also a painter, designer and writer. See his work at michaelbielaczyc.com

Paul Bielaczyc Chesley Award winning artist Paul Bielaczyc co-owns Aradani Studios with his brother Mike, a costuming and art company founded in 2002. Based in Nashville, they travel mostly in the Southeast United States, to various conventions and Renaissance Festivals, selling (in their words) "our art, and our ears".

Rick Boatright Rick Boatright has been the "tech guy" for the 1632 series since 2001. He's published in the hardcover Grantville Gazette as well as the E-Zine. Rick's common activities at cons feature his "Weird Tech" presentation, which he insists has nothing to do with steampunk. Outside of the SF universe, Rick is a partner in a small software development firm.

David Bogen David Bogen has been active in many aspects of fandom from ConCom for many Texas conventions to managing art shows with Pegasus Management across the country. But he is better known in his professional community as a leader in implementing future looking analytics and processes that are transforming the electric industry.

Karen Bogen Editor/copyeditor and writer, K.B. Bogen combines technology and humor with a dash of the macabre. A native Texan, she holds a BSCSE degree from UT Arlington, and several health and nutrition certifications. She knits compulsively and reads forensic anthropology textbooks for fun. Current WIP: the third book in the QUEST series.

Scott Bragg Scott Bragg, is a native of Atlanta, Georgia. His head in the clouds, earning his keep building clouds for IT companies. An amateur photographer, he prefers shooting people who generally don't shoot back. He is kept sane and well-grounded by his wife, the always-awesome Wendi Bragg.

Brett Brooks Brett has written comics for both Dark Horse and Techno Comics, as well as working on White Wolf's World of Darkness RPG. He also published the cult-favorite RPG Xcrawl and the kid-friendly RPG Meddling Kids. His most recent ventures include the fantasy novel series The Champions of Elan.

Doug Burbey Army Lieutenant Colonel (Retired) Douglas Burbey is constantly preparing to: repel the zombie hordes, defend America from all enemies foreign and domestic (particularly Hipsters and Fashionistas), brew beer & defeat the Rebel Alliance. His debut series Blood War has beer, dead demons, corrupt politicians, and rage issues.

David L. Burkhead Indianapolis writer David L. Burkhead is a physicist working in Atomic Force Microscopy. In addition, he is an author of science fiction and fantasy with books such as Survival Test, The Hordes of Chanakra, and Big Blue currently available. Current projects include a sequel to The Hordes of Chanakra.

Dave (D.J.) Butler has mostly recovered from being a lawyer. He writes fantasy for adults (WITCHY EYE, Baen) and kids (THE KIDNAP PLOT, Knopf), loves languages and board games, and plays bad guitar. He's married and has three kids. Dave is also acquisitions editor for Kevin J. Anderson's WordFire Press.

Paul Cagle Paul Cagle is the host of the Ænigma Project radio show and the administrative coordinator for the South Eastern Paranormal Society located in Chattanooga, TN. His first novel, Shadow Born, is now available on Amazon. You can find out more about Shadow Born at www.shadow-borne.com.

Joseph Capdepon Joseph designs fire alarm systems and has been working in that field 13 years. His first short story, Night of the Fireflies appeared in Vol. 59 of the Grantville Gazette. To Face the Tide (forthcoming) in Sha'Daa: Toys (Copper Dog) with his talented, and somewhat handsome co-author Chris Smith. Joseph and his lovely, younger wife Bonnie live in Houston with their poodle, Oberon, King of the Floofs.

Anna Grace Carpenter A.G. Carpenter writes fiction of (and for) all sorts. She studied film-making in college, but quickly discovered that pen and paper are a less costly medium. Her work has appeared in Daily Science Fiction, Abyss & Apex, the Grantville Gazette, and others. Touch: A Trilogy is available from Falstaff Books.

Rachel Cates Rachel has studied many branches of science, but when she discovered D&D and the SCA, new worlds and experiences opened up. Grounded in science, Rachel's craft (painting, drawing, and writing) contains renaissance-whimsy and magic with a dark twist, as expressed in Sha'Daa Toys, under the pen name RJ Ladon.

Debi Chowdhury Debi Chowdhury is: Member of ICG (international Costumers Guild), Sick Pups (New York, New Jersey costumers Guild, NOEL (Northern Lights Costumers Guild, Ma), Co-Director Worldcon 75 Masquerade, Helsinki, Finland Assistant Director, ARISIA, 2017, Boston, Ma Green Room Director, Lunacon 2016, 2017 Assistant to the masquerade director, Loncon 2014 Green Room Clerk, Several conventions Masquerade Staff, Chicon 7, Lonestarcon

Denise Clemons Denise is a member of the Science Fiction Poetry Association and has had her work published in journals, chapbooks and anthologies. She has written a weekly cooking column for the past 12 years and her most recent book, A Culinary History of Southern Delaware was published by the American Palate imprint of the History Press in 2016. Denise presents at many SF Conventions on topics ranging from the Food of Star Trek to interactive writing workshops on world building through feeding the inhabitants of speculative worlds.

Jack Clemons Jack Clemons is an SF author and member of SFWA. He was an engineer and team leader on NASA's Apollo and Space Shuttle Programs, and he appeared in Discovery Channel's award-winning Apollo documentary Moon Machines. His memoir, Safely to Earth, will be published by University Press of Florida later this year.

Julie Cochrane Julie Cochrane has been writing stories since age five. She has three novels co-authored with John Ringo in his Legacy of the Aldenata series, by Baen Books, and a story in Rogues in Hell, by Perseid. Her background includes psychology, chemistry, IT, and martial arts.

Brian Cooksey Brian Cooksey is the former chairman of Hypericon in Nashville, TN and he is one of the hosts of the Play On Target podcast. He also works as a tabletop RPG editor and system consultant. His latest project is for the Sagaborn system.

Jason Cordova A 2015 John W. Campbell Award finalist, Jason Cordova's is probably best known for his popular Kin Wars Saga series. A high school basketball coach in his spare time, he currently lives in the Blue Ridge Mountains in southwestern Virginia. He is also a kaiju enthusiast.

Bridget Correia As if her life wasn't busy enough raising four children and managing the house while her husband writes, Bridget also trains for 5ks, 10ks, and half-marathons. Holding an art history degree from Utah State University she channels her creativity in her needlework and cooking. Originally from the Bay Area, she is now managing the construction of her family's new house at Yard Moose Mountain, Utah.

Larry Correia Larry Correia is the award winning, New York Times bestselling author of the Monster Hunter International series, the Grimnoir Chronicles alternate history trilogy, the Saga of the Forgotten Warrior epic fantasy, the Dead Six thrillers (with Mike Kupari), and the Monster Hunter Memoirs novels (with John Ringo).

1632 has led to a long-running series with over thirty novels and anthologies in print. He's also written many other science fiction and fantasy novels. He resides in northwest Indiana with his wife Lucille.

Monalisa Foster Monalisa won life's lottery when she escaped communism and became an unhyphenated American citizen. Her works tend to explore themes of freedom, liberty, and personal responsibility. Despite her degree in physics, she's worked in engineering and medicine. Her primary genre is space opera with a bit, or a lot of, romance.

"Colonel" Fritz Fotovich Fritz is a non-starving artist masquerading as a logistics engineer contracting for the US Government. Awarded Best Digital Art at the LC30 Art Show. Watch for his Large Ass Dice Games as well as MC'ing LC31's Celebrity Jeopardy event.

A.M. Freeman A.M. Freeman is a young author from the beautiful Georgia mountains. When not arguing with fictional characters, she enjoys reading and horseback riding, and she just about never stops dancing. You can find her work, At The End of Detachment in the anthology Forbidden Thoughts, and more stories in the Planetary Anthologies.

Julie Frost Julie Frost lives in Utah with her family, which consists of more pets than people. Her short fiction has appeared in too many venues to count, including Monster Hunter Files, and her novel series, Pack Dynamics, is published by WordFire Press. She whines about writing, a lot, at <http://agilebrit.livejournal.com/>

Karl Gallagher Karl K. Gallagher is an engineer at a major aerospace company. Previously he calculated trajectories for a commercial launch rocket start-up and designed and operated weather satellites. Karl lives in Saginaw, TX with his family. His books Torchship and Torchship Pilot are available on Amazon and Audible.

Melissa Gay Melissa Gay makes art for book covers, games, and galleries. Her clients include Baen, Llewellyn, Hay House, Apex Press, Evil Hat, Pelgrane Press, Atlas Games, Third Eye Games, and Sagaborn. She belongs to the Changeling Artist Collective and co-founded the Bird Whisperer Project. She is ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT ALL THE THINGS!

Amie Gibbons Amie was born and raised in Utah, flew south for school and stayed. She lawyers, writes, dances, sings, and cat-wrangles, and does some better than others. She lives with a picture snapping cat trapped in a man's body, and a man trapped in a cat's body, who misses opposable thumbs.

Peter Grant Peter Grant was born and raised in South Africa, serving in the military and working in the IT industry and humanitarian concerns before being ordained as a pastor. He immigrated to the USA in 1997, later marrying a pilot from Alaska. They live in Tennessee, where he writes full-time.

Richard Groller Richard Groller writes fiction and non-fiction. He is co-author of The Warrior's Edge, contributing author to The American Warrior, and editor of the illustrated book of macabre poetry, The Book of Night. He has been published in 6 volumes of the Heroes in Hell series; 4 volumes of Sha'Daa: Tales of the Apocalypse series, 2 volumes of the HWA Poetry Showcase, and the horror anthologies What Scares the Boogeyman?, Terror by Gaslight, and Dark Corners.

Dr. Robert E. Hampson Dr. Robert E. Hampson (aka "Tedd Roberts") is the brain scientist behind the science fiction at Baen Books. A neuroscientist with 35 years' experience in laboratory and clinical research, as well as public speaking, he writes science fact and fiction for SF/F audiences and advises authors on cutting edge science for their novels.

Michael H. Hanson Michael H. Hanson created the SHA'DAA shared-world series and his work has appeared in the last 6 anthologies of Janet Morris's Heroes-in-Hell series. His work is in the anthology C.H.U.D. LIVES! and also the Roger Zelazny tribute anthology SHADOWS AND REFLECTIONS. He's published 90-plus stories in the last 14 years.

John Hartness John G. Hartness is a teller of tales, a righter of wrong, defender of ladies' virtues, and some people call him Maurice, for he speaks of the pompatus of love. He is also the award-winning author of the urban fantasy series The Black Knight Chronicles (Bell Bridge Books), the Bubba the Monster Hunter comedic horror series, the Quincy Harker, Demon Hunter dark fantasy series, and many other projects.

Ross Hathaway Ross Hathaway is a propulsion engineer who works at NASA Armstrong Flight Research Center in California. He has been involved in the aerospace industry for over 40 years and has dealt with aero vehicles from man-powered, electric, turbomachinery, ram and scramjets, and rockets.

Jonna Hayden Jonna Hayden is a professional Costume Designer, clothing historian, and long-time SF geek. After many years of hiding in the Science Fiction section of the school library, she found her tribe when she attended Orycon 5. She builds shows for the Opera, Ballet, and anyone else who will pay her.

Louise Herring-Jones Louise Herring-Jones (Amy L. Herring) writes mainstream, historical, and speculative fiction as well as non-fiction. Her science fiction, dark fantasy, and light horror stories have been published in anthologies, including Michaelis and the Dew Shades in Fae Tales of the Mediterranean (Futurefire.net Publishing, 2016), Tender in Life on the Rez (Tree-Lion Press, 2016) and, coming soon, Shootout at Paint Rock (in a Pro Se Press anthology) and High Ground with illustrations by Melissa Gay (Thunderchild Publishing).

Robby Hilliard Robby Hilliard, a native of Chattanooga TN who now resides in Marietta GA, writes horror, science-fiction, and fantasy. His first published short story, Cold Case, can be found in the Sha'Daa Shared-World, Dark-Fantasy Universe published by Copper Dog Publishing.

Taylor S Hoch Taylor S Hoch—author of The Curse of the Dullahan/Prospero Clydesdale O'Shaughnessy middle-grade urban fantasy series has five books out and a sixth due to be released in 2019. Taylor holds master's degrees in English Literature and Creative Writing, and is also a singer/songwriter, storyteller, avid gamer, and SF/Fantasy fan. Look for her on Authors Alley as well as running the Kids D&D in the game room.

Dan Hollifield runs Aphelion Webzine, online since 1997, as a writer's workshop freezine. He's made a few pro sales of his writing so far, the biggest being an upcoming collection of spaceport bar short stories from Dark Oak Press. He has 3 music albums out, and as an Atlanta-area steampunk.

John Holmes is a 22-year veteran of the US Army and the NY Army National Guard, and served in Iraq in 2005. It all started when watching The Walking Dead with a friend and she grew irritated at his constant "That's not right!" or "That's impossible!" She challenged him to write something better, and almost a dozen books later, here he is. His books range from Military Science Fiction to Space Opera to Fantasy, and some comedy thrown in.

Teresa Howard Teresa a life-long fan of science fiction and fantasy. She is a retired teacher, semi-professional genealogist, and Science Fiction and Fantasy author. Her short stories have been published in magazines, anthologies, webzines, and on iPhone aps in the U.S., Canada, and the U.K. Her debut novel The Reluctant Empress published by Champagne Book Group 2017

Rob Howell A reformed medieval academic who uses that experience in his writing, Rob has also been an IT professional and a soda jerk. As a child, his parents discovered books were the only way to keep him quiet. Without books, either he or his parents would not have survived. Possibly both.

Daniel M. Hoyt Daniel M. Hoyt is a systems architect for rocket trajectory software, when not writing or wrangling royalty calculations. Dan has appeared in many magazines and anthologies, notably Witch Way to the Mall, Strip Mauled, and Fangs for the Mammaries (Baen); Mike Brotherton's Diamonds in the Sky; and has edited Fate Fantastic and Better Off Undead for DAW. His debut space opera, Ninth Euclid's Prince, launched in 2015; sequels are underway.

Sarah A. Hoyt Sarah A. Hoyt was born (and raised) in Portugal and now lives in Colorado with her husband, two sons, and a variable number of cats, depending on how many show up to beg on the door step. She is the author of more than 30 published novels: science fiction, fantasy, mystery, historical mystery, historical fantasy and historical biography. Her space-opera novel Darkship Thieves was the 2011 Prometheus Award Winner.

Debbie Hughes Debbie Hughes is a painter and illustrator whose work has been published worldwide. She is one of the few women illustrators who has successfully broken into the male dominated field of Science Fiction and Fantasy publishing. In addition her paintings have been sought after by collectors in the U.S. and abroad. Debbie is a graduate of Furman University. She is also the grand-daughter of Hildegard Hamilton, a well-known impressionist painter. Debbie and her husband Dean live in rural north Georgia with two cats.

Daniel Humphreys Daniel Humphreys is the author of the "Paxton Locke" urban fantasy series and the "Z-Day" series of post-apocalyptic thrillers. He lives in southern Indiana with his family.

Kevin Ikenberry Kevin Ikenberry is a life-long space geek, retired Army Lieutenant Colonel, and science fiction writer. His debut novel Sleeper Protocol was heralded as "an emotionally powerful debut" by Publisher's Weekly. He is the author of The Protocol War series and the Peacemaker novels in the best-selling Four Horsemen Universe.

Steve Jackson Steve Jackson founded SJG in 1980. He has designed way too many games, including Ogre, Car Wars, Illuminati, GURPS, and Munchkin. His hobbies include Lego, pirates, tropical fish, rolling ball machines, and gardening, and he really wishes he could still find the time for beekeeping, model railroading, videogames, and the SCA.

Bryan Jones Bryan Jones is a chainmail smith and digital artist who proudly hails from Huntsville, Alabama, the "Rocket City." He grew up in a computer-literate home long before computers were cool and enjoys transferring his imagination into digital space vistas. On the other end of the space-time continuum, Bryan is a fan of Renaissance Faires and medieval combat, translating that interest into chainmail creations that will delight any fair lady and her knight in shining armor.

Cecilia Star Kachina Cecilia Star Kachina is a girl still in high school. She will graduate this year. She is a writer of horror or poetry. She is also painter and sculptor of clay. She has won awards for being a young author. She and her family live in Chickamauga, Georgia.

Bart Kemper Bart Kemper is a Professional Engineer and based in Louisiana. When he is not there, he is somewhere else, such as Iraq, Afghanistan, Vietnam, or Washington State. He's a writer, soldier, engineer, photographer, father, inventor, and problem solver. Using explosives. No boom today. Maybe boom tomorrow.

Chris Kennedy A bestselling SciFi/Fantasy/Alt History author, speaker, and small-press publisher, Chris Kennedy has written 20 books and published more than 35 others. CHATTANOOGA

In 1988, a study by the Chattanooga Metropolitan Council on homelessness found there were few options available to single women and women with children who found themselves homeless. Various organizations were invited to join in addressing this critical issue. The result was astonishing: Chattanooga Room in the Inn officially began on August 31, 1988, offering overnight shelter at seven area churches (Brainerd Church of Christ, Central Presbyterian Church, First Centenary United Methodist Church, First Christian Church, Hixson Church of Christ, Hixson United Methodist Church, and Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church). In 1992, Room in the Inn moved into its own facility and developed into a fully operational shelter open 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Since its inception, Room in the Inn has been privileged to assist over 3000 homeless women and children regain their independence with dignity and security.
