June 22 – 25, 2006

Letter from the Editor

Welcome back to Cincinnati, and to the Doubletree Guest Suites. We thank all members who gave us feedback last year. The Friday Night Food Event was received enthusiastically, and will be repeated this year. The menu book and restaurant guide have been revised again this year. Note that four of the restaurants “A Little Further Afield” in last year’s guide have closed, so please check this year’s guide. We have another event this year, one we had hoped would not be needed for years yet – we will be having a wake for our good friend Howard Devore. Please join us in remembering Howard’s 56 years with Midwestcon. See Convention Info for further details. As always, a drop box for comments will be in the Consuite. Thanks, and enjoy relaxing with the Cincinnati Fantasy Group.

CHRIS AND ME

by Michael Jordan

OR

JUNE 23, 2006

A PARTY THREE DECADES IN THE MAKING!

Actually, it was thirty-five years ago that Michael came home from school one day and found that her mother had adopted a son - at least she hoped her mother adopted him. The possibility exists that dear old Mom kidnapped him from the neighbors by leaving him a trail of chocolate crumbs (a lure to which he is still vulnerable). Michael did not enquire too closely. She was delighted to have acquired a kid brother. It had to be better than having a big sister. But Michael and Chris were just mundanes then, so you probably don't care about that story.

Anyway, Michael tried very hard to do better at being a big sister than some who shall remain nameless. She took good care of Chris, teaching him to read science fiction and enabling his chocolate habit. But that was all she taught him. It was all she knew. As has been mentioned, they were just mundanes.

And then, in June of 1976, Chris came to Michael with a battered copy of Analog in his hand. "You see this ad?" he said.

(1976 was practically the only time that Midwestcon advertised in Analog.)

“There’s going to be some kind of science fiction convention right over in Norwood. You think we could maybe go?”

Readers will note that Chris actually asked Michaela politely. Big sisters that are allowed to drive Mom’s car get respect.

Michaela (who was not as much of an improvement on the basic big sister model as she thought she was) frowned at the advertisement suspiciously. “Oh, that’s probably just for writers.”

Chris knew when he had the high ground. “Oh, come on,” he insisted. “They can only throw us out.”

That is why the world needs kid brothers. I had no idea that fateful weekend, that my life was turning onto an entirely new axis, that I had just stopped measuring x and started checking out y. But I was a stupid kid. The world was full of stuff I didn’t know. Including that my life had just changed forever. But all that stuff I didn’t know was still there. Chris and I became fans that day

In SF, we read a lot of tales about pivotal moments and paths not taken, or taken against all odds. Chris and I invite you to commemorate one with us, Friday after the Dessert Contest. After all, you got us here.

Set Your Expectations Higher Vote for Denver to host the 2008 WorldCon! August 6th through August 10th, 2008

Why Denver? Located at the base of the Rocky Mountains, Denver is one of the most beautiful cities in America. It combines a love of the outdoors with the sophistication and culture of a large city. The renovated downtown district is vibrant, open late into the night, and offers a variety of public transit including a free shuttle through the LoDo (lower downtown) area. There are hundreds of shops and restaurants and over 5,300 hotel rooms within walking distance of the newly expanded Colorado Convention Center. The Mile High City is famed for its brew pubs, museums, Coors Field, the Denver Mint, Six Flags Elitch Gardens, and the Tattered Cover bookstore.

Hotels: Our main block of rooms will be at the Adam's Mark Hotel, with a room rate of $119 per night. For those who prefer to be closer to the convention center, rooms will be available at the Hyatt Regency Denver at the Colorado Convention Center. If price is your primary concern, less expensive rooms will be available within the downtown area.

Bid Committee: The Denver 2008 bid committee has been volunteering at and involved in running WorldCons for over 25 years, and has been attending them many years longer than that. Our collected experience guarantees that we know what it takes to put on a successful convention. President: Kent Bloom, Treasurer: Brian Morman, Secretary: Mary Morman. Howard with Margaret, Midwestcon 56, 2005

Now Only One is Standing

By Roger Sims

On the last day of 2005 Howard Devore lost his chance to remain as one of two attendees at all Midwestcons. Now only Margaret Keifer has that honor.

Howard had many accomplishments in his 60 odd years in fandom. Although he began reading SF in 1934, he didn't find us until after he was discharged from the U.S. Air Force shortly after the Second World War. I'm sure that some of us will tell many Howard stories this weekend. Some of them may even be true. About here I should list his accomplishments. However when I talked to him about the write-up I did about him for LACon's PR#3, he asked, "Will you be kind?"

I responded, "Not on your life!"

He replied, "Well, then."

So instead I'll tell the story of how he kept his attendance record: Karol his second daughter was born around the date of most Midwestcon weekends. This meant that Howard was generally not home for her birthday. To retaliate, his oldest daughter scheduled her wedding for the last full weekend in June! So after the afternoon wedding and a decent appearance at the reception, several of us piled into a car and drove to Cincy, arriving around midnight. Thus not breaking Howard's record!

Rusty Hevelin with Howard Devore

One of my last memories of Howard occurred at last year's MWC. He was sitting in his wheelchair late Saturday night long past my bed time spinning stories without shortness of breath. His daughter earlier had taken his oxygen up to his room in hopes that he would follow. He did, but it was over two hours later!

Although Detroit started bidding for a Worldcon in 1948, it was not until 1958 that Howard decided we were mature enough to take on a Worldcon. So he helped us with the bidding and then after we won did much to organize the various committees. It was through his efforts that we were able to acquire an excellent Pro Guest of Honor, Poul Anderson. Howard would have been the Con Chair, but elected to back Fred Prophet and me. But his turn came in 1966 as one of the three chairs of Tricon in Cleveland, Ohio.

Roy Lavender, Howard Devore, Lloyd Eshbach, Verna Trestrail

The first glass was raised and drunk at Confusion in Detroit; the second at this year's Conclave 27. The last will be at Worldcon. Perhaps the most significant will be at MWC 57. It also might just be the beginning of a fannish tradition.

Both a Meijers and a Costco are also accessible from this exit – turn left at the exit and right on Fields-Ertel. For what is undeniably the most unique and varied grocery in Cincinnati, you must go a little farther afield. Jungle Jim's is a mecca of fresh produce an ethnic/imported specialties. Jungle Jim's originated as a produce market but now includes a grocery, a deli, a bank, a bakery, a state licensed liquor store and a pharmacy with a first for Cincinnati – an “Oxygen Bar”. 5. Book Stores – The nearest and best place to look for books is of course our own Dealer's Room, both for current science fiction/fantasy and for older material. If, however, you cannot find what you are looking for or have a significant other along with different tastes, the nearest bookstore is the Barnes and Nobles at the Fields-Ertel exit off I-71. Hours: 9 am – 10 pm, 7 days a week. Directions: I-275 east to I-71 north to the Fields-Ertel exit, turn left at the exit and right on Field-Ertel Rd. The bookstore will be 4 lights ahead on the left. 6. Cinema For those interested in seeing any of the recent science fiction/fantasy films, an 18 screen cinema (one an IMAX) with stadium style seating is available nearby. Directions: Take I-275 west to the Route 4 exit. Stay in the right hand lane for entrance to the cinema. A listing of current shows and times will be available in the consuite menu book.
