PROGRAMMING

"Minicon Programming is Still Crazy After All These Years with its usual unusual assortment of discussions, panels, concerts, readings, autographings, et cetera; brought to you by a bizarre and zany crew of professionals, would-be's, soon-to-be's, and a host of others that could include YOU! Send us your ideas for a backwards into the future look at science fiction, fantasy, and fandom. Write to the Programming committee, c/o Minicon before February 15, 1987. Do it yesterday. Or is that tomorrow?"

PARTIES

"All food or drink suggestions gratefully accepted!" "If you wanted to see more or less of anything let us know. But remember we have to stay within Health Department guidelines."

COSTUMED INDIVIDUAL PERSONS

There will be a revised weapons policy that will be published in Progress Report 2.

CHILD CARE will be available for registered child attendees.

GAMING

"Role-playing and miniatures gaming will be going on at the convention. Specific events must be arranged in advance with the Gaming committee." Contact V. Raymond c/o Minicon.

VIDEO

"We will not show any tapes except those we have previous to the convention." Contact Rick Bjugan.

WE NEED YOU

"For a good time call or write David Cumber or Sue Grandys (to volunteer for parties!)" "It is never too soon to tell one of us you want to be a bartender or Twinkie."

Other rewarding positions are available as Badgers and Gophers.

OR

FIRST SOLICITATION
FOR T-SHIRT ART

"Once again Minicon will be issuing a commemorative T-shirt. For this we need ART. So unlimber your drawing pens. We need either a front & back pair or a single panel design. Your artwork should be reproduceable by silkscreen printing. Minicon pays a royalty of 10% per panel. The deadline for art to arrive is February 13, 1987. Art will be viewed by the convention committee and then voted on. Mail to Minicon, Attention: T-shirt."

PUBLICATIONS ART

We would be happy to look at contributed interior illos and cartoons for Progress Report 2 and the Program Book. Subject matter should be related to Minicon, this year's theme, or SF and fantasy in general. Format is 5"w X 8" image area, vertical. Art may be reduced. Send copies rather than originals, with your address on the back. Sign and copyright your art. You will be donating one-time publication rights.
