

Norwescon 42

Don't forget your towel!

We have Guests of Honor!

Please welcome our Norwescon 42 Guests of Honor!

Mary Robinette Kowal, Writer Guest of Honor
Tran Nguyen, Artist Guest of Honor
Dan Koboldt, Science Guest of Honor
Nancy Pearl, Special Guest
Subterranean Press, Spotlight Publisher

You can learn more about them at our Guests of Honor page found here!

Thank you, Fairwood Writers!

The longtime association between Norwescon and Fairwood Writers is coming to a close. For many years, Fairwood Writers sponsored the writing workshop at Norwescon, organizing all the incoming manuscripts from hopeful writers, managing staffing, and facilitating the critique sessions. Norwescon is eternally grateful for Fairwood's friendship and their commitment to the writing community here in the Pacific Northwest.

Norwescon Writing Workshop - Applications open through 12/9/18!

Applications are now being accepted for the Norwescon Writers Workshop. The workshop format is a Milford-style, peer-to-peer critique facilitated by professional writers, editors, and agents. We will accept short story and novel excerpts in the science fiction, fantasy, and horror genres. Writers ages 18+ of all skill levels are encouraged to apply. There are no additional fees beyond your Norwescon membership.

October Book Club!

Come join your fellow bibliophiles as we read another book by a local author. This time we're reading Terry Brooks' Armageddon's Children. This book helps explain how his Shannara series connects to the events in the Word and Void trilogy. Set in the Pacific Northwest, see how many landmarks you can recognize!

Host: Kathy Bond (A dragon will mark the spot!)
Time: Sunday, October 28, 6 p.m. - 8 p.m.
Place: Third Place Books, Lake Forest Park
Book: Terry Brooks, Armageddon's Children
