HINTS FOR ROLE-PLAYING

The idea is the games are for fun.

The Gamemaster is THE authority in his/her game. Never say 'This isn't how we did it.' This is the present Gamemaster's world. Don't bother asking 'Why...,' it spoils the fun (ask AFTER the game). Don't argue with a Gamemaster's decision. If there is a strong disagreement, discuss it AFTER! Remember the Gamemaster is human (even though this has been disputed).

If any player is disruptive, the person will not be permitted to play.

The Gamemaster will have pre-rolled characters, balanced for the party. NO ONE may bring their own character from another campaign. It is too time consuming, and the game is already based on the Gamemaster's characters.

We would like to thank all our monitors, guests, and participants in advance for making this Gameroom dream a reality.
