

SUNDAY

8:00 : "Rock 'n' Roll Starship" - Created by science-fiction fans for science-fiction fans, this is the best SF movie ever made in Logansport, Indiana. This flick is making its South Florida premiere courtesy of one Chuck Budreau, who also scored it.

10:00 : "Dragonball: Curse of the Blood Rubies" - The extremely popular anime series, in feature form.

11:00 : "Dracula" (Spanish, B&W) - Many critics feel that this version of Dracula, shot simultaneously with the Bela Lugosi version and employing the same sets and props, is superior to its more famous cousin. The direction is certainly more dynamic than Tod Browning's. Subtitled.

1:00 : "Robin Hood" (silent, B&W) - This is the original, starring the athletic Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. as Robin Hood and Wallace Beery as Little John. Keep in mind while watching that Doug did all his own stunts.

In addition to the movies and TV shows, there will be various little goodies inserted throughout the weekend as "filler" between features. These will include episodes of the "Flash Gordon" serial with Buster Crabbe, classic cartoons, and some surprises!

Video

PLAYBILL

Doubletree Suites

Tropicon XVI

FRIDAY

12:00 : Rocky Jones, Space Ranger: “Beyond the Curtain of Space” - (B&W) Three episodes of the SF TV show from the '50s. Professor Newton is kidnapped and brainwashed by the evil Ofecians, who apparently want to appropriate his prototype recipe for fig cookies. Rocky must save him.

2:00 : “The Day the Earth Stood Still” - (B&W) The classic film, starring Michael Rennie and Patricia O’Neal. If you don’t know the phrase “Klaatu Berada Nikto,” you don’t know skiffy!

4:00 : The Outer Limits: “Soldier” - (B&W) One of the best episodes of the acclaimed TV show. It was penned by Harlan Ellison and was the direct inspiration for the movie “The Terminator.”

5:00 : Star Trek: “City on the Edge of Forever” - Another show written by Harlan Ellison. Some say this is the finest episode ever of the TV show, even with Joan Collins.

6:00 : Hong Kong Film Festival : “City Hunter” - Starring Jackie Chan. Based on popular Japanese comic book character Ryu Saeba, it is visually fantastic and utterly loopy at the same time. “A kind of celluloid Manga on ecstasy.” Dubbed.

8:00 : Hong Kong Film Festival : “The Bride With White Hair” - Starring Brigitte Lin. A dark, erotic mystic thriller in the distinctive HK style. Subtitled and Letterboxed.*

10:00: Hong Kong Film Festival: “The Killer” - Directed by John Woo and starring Chow Yun Fat, “The coolest actor in the world” (The Los Angeles Times), this one is required viewing for any true HK film fan. Subtitled and Letterboxed. *

11:30 : “Project A-Ko” - Anime about a young Japanese girl detective with supernatural powers.*

*Parental Advisory: Some explicit content.

SATURDAY

8:00 : Psychadelic Saturday: “Sigmund and the Sea Monster” and “H.R. Pufnstuf” - The first episodes of the Sid and Marty Krofft '70s series. These shows are what generation x-ers grew up watching. So that’s what their problem is!

9:00 : Psychadelic Saturday: “The Bugaloos” and “Lidsville” - More TV from the twisted minds of the Kroffts. If you’ve ever wanted to see Martha Raye and Charles Nelson Reilly caper around in outlandish costumes, pull up a chair and enjoy!

10:00 : “101 Dalmations” - In her pursuit of the prestigious “Joan Crawford Canned Ham” award, Glenn Close does everything but chew the draperies as Cruella DeVille in this live- action version of the classic Disney movie.

12:00 : VIDEO ROOM IS CLOSED. CHECK OUT ARNE STARR’S VIDEO PREVIEWS! (SEE PROGRAM BOOK FOR DETAILS.)

2:00 : Mystery Science Theater 3000: “Robot Monster” (B&W) - In their first season, Joel and the ‘bots watched some pretty weird flicks. This is one of the weirdest. You’ll swear you must be dreaming when “Ro-Man” makes bubbles come out of his organ.

4:00 : “The Net” - Sandra Bullock’s identity is erased in this hit movie. Some said it was a thriller, others said it was a fantasy due to the completely impossible things done with computers throughout the movie.

6:00 : Wallace and Gromit: “The Wrong Trousers” and “A Close Shave” - Nick Park won Academy Awards for these innovative clay animation short films. They are meticulously done, absolutely hilarious, and highly addictive.

7:00 : “Johnny Mnemonic” - Keanu Reeves gives a breathtaking performance as a man struggling with narcolepsy. Unfortunately, that’s not the part he’s supposed to be playing. The SFX are good, though, and it’s based on a book by William Gibson. *

9:00 : VIDEO ROOM IS CLOSED. Check out “The Rocky Horror Picture Show” (with cast) and “The Lost World”, our Saturday night Double Feature! (See program book for details.)

*Parental Advisory: Some explicit content.