Guests of Honor

Terri Windling

Terri Windling is a writer, a painter, and a consulting editor for Tor Books — best known for her 17 years of editorial work in the field of fantasy literature, where she is one of the people responsible for the steady rise of contemporary mythic fiction, urban fantasy, and modern fairy tales for adult readers. She has published over 20 books, including The Wood Wife (a magical realist novel set in contemporary Tucson, Arizona), Snow White, Blood Red (literary fairy tales for adult readers), and The Armless Maiden (literary fairy tales addressing the subject of child abuse) — as well as short stories, children’s fiction, and a regular column on folklore for Realms of Fantasy Magazine. She has won five World Fantasy Awards and the 1997 Mythopoeic Award for Best Novel of the Year. As a painter, she has exhibited work in galleries and museums across the US and abroad.

Mary Doria Russell

Mary Doria Russell is a paleoanthropologist with specialities in bone biology and biomechanics. Dr. Russell had a great time in Academe—published a lot of stuff, won a bunch of awards and grants—but eventually got fed up and quit. She spent four lucrative years writing computer manuals before beginning her novel, The Sparrow. Russell estimates that about 22 anthropologists, world-wide, read her academic publications and nobody ever reads computer manuals, so she figured that if even just her friends read her novel, she was way ahead in terms of readership because she has lots of friends. The Sparrow won the James Tiptree, Jr. Award, the British Science Fiction Association’s Best Novel Award, The Arthur C. Clarke Award, the John W. Campbell Award for Best New Writer, and the Cleveland Arts Council Prize for Literature. Antonio Banderas will star in the movie version of The Sparrow, to be produced by Universal Studios. Children of God, the sequel to The Sparrow, was published in 1997. Russell is currently writing her third novel.

*God, you guys are so organized!
... Have you ever considered running any major corporations or small developing nations?*

—Mary Doria Russell

WisCon's programming will focus on feminism and gender issues in science fiction and fantasy, and — as always — will be the centerpiece of the convention. We plan complete tracks of readings, academic papers, single-person presentations, and discussions. There will also be plenty of not-so-serious events. We welcome your ideas.

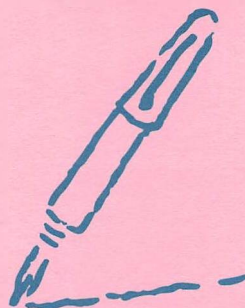

Contact program coordinator Debbie Notkin at the WisCon email or snailmail address (see page 6), if you have ideas for programming or if you're interested in signing up as a panelist.

We will once again offer nighttime party suites to individuals and groups who would like to throw an open party. Contact us soon, if you are interested. The rooms (not the party supplies) are free!

Writer's Respite

WisCon 23 will include a full day of programming for feminist writers, beginning Friday morning with a writer's workshop, followed by lunch, a marketing workshop with an emphasis on the obstacles and opportunities for feminist fiction writers, then an informal discussion of writer's practical and artistic struggles. Many feminist authors and editors will be presenting and participating in these workshops, and writer's track programming will continue throughout the weekend with panel presentations and small, informal discussions. Anyone who pre-registers for WisCon and submits a manuscript by April 1 can participate in the writer's respite at no extra cost other than $10 for lunch, but space is limited to 50 participants. Visit the WisCon web page (see page 6) for further information.

We recommend that out-of-towners plan to arrive on Thursday evening in order to fully participate in the writer's respite.

Format for submitted manuscripts

- Ⓢ 12 pt. Courier plain font (Typewriter)
- Ⓢ Double spaced
- Ⓢ all pages numbered

Writer's Workshop

The third WisCon writer's workshop will run just like the first two, dividing participants into groups of six, each of which includes one professional guest critiquer. Everyone will receive their group's stories in advance to critique, and we'll meet during the convention to discuss our reactions.

Manuscripts must be postmarked by April 1, 1999. Participants need to send five (5) copies of one short story (up to 7,500 words) or one book chapter (up to 10,000 words — and include an outline if this is not the first chapter). Please send 5 copies plus a 10" x 13" self-addressed manila envelope with $3.20 postage (stamps, not metered) to Amy Axt Hanson, 923 N. Lawrence St., Tacoma, WA 98406.

Please note that we will not do critiques by mail. If you want to get feedback, you have to be there. Also please note that the workshop will be held on Friday morning. This may affect your work arrangements and travel plans.

Questions? Contact Amy Hanson at selenite@compuserve.com or 253-756-1805.

Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction Clock Hours

WisCon may soon be certified by the Wisconsin DPI to offer up to 30 continuing clock hours for teachers, librarians, psychologists, etc., who attend programming. For more information, please check the box on the registration form.

Kids Programming

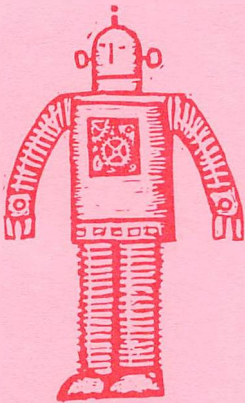

The kid-oriented programming will be aimed at ages 6-12, and will include fantasy games, arts and crafts, musical activities, discussions with authors and of favorite books, and other items developed by and for kids.

Free Party Parlors

If you're interested in throwing an open party in the hotel, please contact the WisCon staff about the party parlors, which will be assigned to publishers, bid committees, fan groups and individuals. The rooms (not the party supplies) are free.

Dealers Room

Tables are $25 for one table, $30 for the second, and $35 for the third. All dealers must be WisCon members, and convention registration is required but is not included in the table fee. Please contact Hank Luttrell (608-251-6226) during business hours for information about reserving table space, equipment availability, and other details.

Child Care

WisCon 23 will hire professional child-care providers as we have in the past three years. Daytime child care will be offered to attendees with child-care memberships, which are available at the same cost as regular adult attending memberships. Please note: your child must have a child-care membership to use child care, and child-care memberships must be purchased in advance.

Volunteers

You can save $20 by working for six hours or more at the convention. Register at the regular rate, and a refund will be mailed to you after the convention. Check the volunteer box on the registration form, or contact WisCon via phone or email before or during the convention.

Tiptree Auction & Art Show

The WisCon 23 art show and Tiptree Award sale items will be displayed together, and you will be able to make written bids on everything that is for sale from Friday through Saturday night. Most items will be sold by written bid and available for “pick up and pay” on Sunday and Monday.

The most contested items, and some others specially selected by the auctioneer, will be auctioned Saturday night. You won't want to miss another in the amazingly entertaining series of Ellen Klages Live Auction Performances. The Tiptree Award will receive all proceeds from donated items and a commission on art show items. For art show information, please check the box on the registration form.

Convention members will have the opportunity to vote on the art show awards again this year, with categories like “Best of Show,” “Most Feminist,” and “Most Politically Incorrect.”

WisCon 23's art show will continue to focus on feminist art, art by women, and art by Midwestern artists.

Donations for the Tiptree auction can be mailed to Scott Custis, 2825 Union St., Madison, WI 53704, to arrive at least one week before the convention. If you wish to bring the auction item to the convention with you, then please let Scott know as soon as possible what you are bringing. You can notify us via the WisCon phone number or email (see page 6). We still need auction items, so we are looking forward to hearing from you.

Tiptree Bake Sale

What better way to support the Tiptree Award? If you'd like to prepare some baked goods or other treats for the bake sale, please call the WisCon hotline (608-233-8850) to get information on where to bring goodies. And come to WisCon ready to munch!

Financial Support of WisCon 23

Please consider making an additional contribution to help cover the costs of WisCon 23. There have already been a number of generous donations — your support will help make WisCon even more successful. WisCon is sponsored by SF³ (the Society for the Furtherance and Study of Fantasy and Science Fiction, Inc.), a 501(c)(3) educational and literary society, and donations are tax deductible to the full extent allowed by law. Your membership is not tax deductible because you presumably get an equivalent value for it.

Governor's Club room rates are $109. WisCon 22 filled up the hotel last year, and we expect that rooms will sell out again for WisCon 23, so please book your rooms early and mention "WisCon 1999" when you call.

The Concourse is a handicapped-accessible hotel; call for specific information about accessibility. Smoke-free rooms are available upon request. The hotel is located in the heart of Madison, so there are plenty of restaurants, shops, and interesting people and places within easy walking distance. The Saturday Farmers' Market on the Capitol Square is a popular choice for breakfast browsing.
