

2022 Hugo, Lodestar and Astounding Awards

2235 final ballots were received (2230 electronic, 5 paper) - more than in any previous year since 1953, except the 2014-2019 period, and 2021.

1368 nominating ballots were received (1366 electronic, 2 paper) - more than in any previous year since 1953, except the 2014-2020 period.

The winner of Best Editor Long Form was decided by a margin of 26 votes, and the winner of Best Semiprozine by a margin of 27. These were the closest results among winners.

At lower placings, there was a tie for 5th place in the Best Fanzine category, and 5th place in the Best Fancast category was decided by a margin of one vote.

In two categories, the finalist with the second highest number of first preferences won after transfers. In one category, the finalist with the third highest number of first preferences won after transfers.

In thirteen out of nineteen categories, the winner had also topped the poll at nominations stage. In two categories the winner had placed third at nominations, in two the winner was fourth and in two the winner was the second to last to qualify.

As usual, there were some categories where potential finalists turned out not to be eligible, or declined nomination for other reasons.

- Exceptionally, in the Best Editor Long Form category, five nominees who had numerically qualified for the final ballot either informed the Administrators that they were not eligible, or declined nomination.
- In the Best Professional Artist category, one potential finalist informed the Administrators that they were not eligible and another declined nomination.
- Potential finalists also declined nomination in Best Novella and Best Fan Writer.
- A potential finalist for Best Graphic Story or Comic was published in 2020 and so was not eligible.
- A TV series qualified for Best Dramatic Presentation, Long Form, and one of its episodes also qualified for Best Dramatic Presentation, Short Form. Because the series as a whole had received many more nominating votes than the episode, the Administrators excluded the latter.

The last place on the ballot in the following categories was decided by a single vote: Best Graphic Story or Comic; Best Dramatic Presentation, Short Form; Best Editor Long Form; Best Semiprozine; and Best Fan Artist.

The last place on the ballot in the following categories was decided by a margin of two votes: Best Novelette; Best Short Story; Best Series; Best Dramatic Presentation, Long Form; Best Professional Artist; and Best Fan Writer.

Detailed Nomination and Voting Statistics

Final ballot

The winner and lower places are determined by the single transferable vote. In the tables, the leader in each round of counting is shown in blue and the eliminated finalists in red.

In each category, a runoff vote is also conducted between the winner and No Award to determine if the winner has majority acceptance. Also, if the number of first preference votes for finalists other than No Award in any category is less than 25% of the total number of votes, no award is made in that category. Neither of these was triggered in 2022.

How Nominations are Tallied

Nominations for the Hugo Awards (and the Lodestar Award and Astounding Award) are tallied using a system known as E Pluribus Hugo (EPH). It has been in place since 2017 and is intended to reduce the impact of bloc voting in the nomination process. Under EPH, nomination votes are tallied as follows:

- First, the total number of nominations from all ballots is tallied for each nominee.
- Next, a single point is assigned to each individual voter's nomination ballot. That point is divided equally among all nominees on that ballot. (In later rounds of calculation, it is divided equally between remaining nominees.)
- Next, all points from all nomination ballots are totalled for each nominee in that category.
- Next, the two nominees with the lowest point totals are compared. If there is a tie of more than two nominees with the lowest or second lowest point total, all of them are compared.
- Whichever of the nominees being compared has the fewer or fewest number of nominations is eliminated and removed from all subsequent calculations. If two or more nominees are tied for the fewest number of nominations, the nominee with the lowest point total at that round is eliminated. If two or more nominees are tied for both fewest number of nominations and lowest point total, then all such nominees tied at that round shall be eliminated, unless that would leave fewer than six in play, in which case they all get onto the final ballot.
- Back to step 1 with the remaining nominees after the elimination.

Interpreting Nomination Tables

The column headed N lists the total number of nominations received by the nominee.

The columns to the right of that show the points for each nominee, starting from the tenth last count (as specified in the WSFS Constitution). The two numbers in red in each of those columns show the points of the two nominees with the lowest point totals, which are being compared to see which one should be eliminated.

The last column on the right is the final count, with the last eliminated nominee below the thicker line (if there were no withdrawals or disqualifications) and the remaining six above being the finalists who go on to appear on the ballot.

In cases where one or more of the top six nominees was not eligible for the category, or withdrew from consideration, they are struck through on the table and their places on the final ballot were taken by the last nominees to be eliminated, in reverse order, and the thicker line is placed below the last nominee to reach the final ballot.

For each category, we note the margin by which the last place on the final ballot was decided. In some cases this is given as a number of "bullet votes", ie nominating votes which nominate only one nominee and nobody else.

NB that the Hugo administrators do not make eligibility decisions regarding nominees unless they have enough votes to qualify for the final ballot, so it is possible that some nominees below the line would also not have been eligible.

Nominations and preferences per category

This table shows the number of nominations and number of final ballot preferences given by voters in each category. The nomination numbers are the raw count, before votes were transferred between categories by Administrators, so the numbers will not exactly match the published final nomination voting figures. Procedurally there is no difference between marking 6 or 7 valid preferences on the final ballot, so those numbers are tallied together in the table below.
