DEEP SHOCKS AND BASIC CHANGES

Nearly two months ago, in Australia we had barely noticed the word of the year, 'coronavirus'. You can see this from my own contribution, which was finished at the end of February. Now our every action is cursed. I did not relish receiving vast amounts of paper for the April mailing, all to be processed and sent out via the Australian Post Office, which could well have been shut down by 17 April. Gary Mason hosted a vigorous discussion on the issue (see Memos 8 and 9), and David Grigg, self-isolating but busy with publishing projects, came to the rescue. Thanks to him, we have found a way to lodge PDF documents into an all-electronic version of ANZAPA. I would have had little idea how to rescue us otherwise. ∴ Thanks to everybody for not only maintaining your enthusiasm for ANZAPA, but increasing your output. Sorry, Garry Dalrymple, that we haven't yet solved your technical problems.

WELCOME, DERRICK ASHBY

The last thing I expected from the current situation was a new member, but because we have gone all-electronic, ANZAPA veteran (in several decades) Derrick Ashby has rejoined us.

PRINTING

David is compiling printable versions of Mailing 314. I'm having mine printed by Steve from Copy Place. Email him at copies@copyplace.com.au and give him your details. I will send him the complete mailing ASAP. Steve would need to print all the copies at once, so please get in touch on Monday if you are going to use this service. Phone: (03) 9670 7325.

COVER

Thanks very much, Gary Mason, for providing the colour cover this time. The photo was taken on the last possible weekend when Gary and Ryan could have visited us in Victoria.
