FAPA 103

THE PETITION I circulated last mailing did not draw as much support as did that circulated by Boggs. Perhaps it was because I did not circularize the membership afterwards to round up votes. In any case I received 28 affirmative votes on the petition, and 10 negative votes, plus one additional affirmative vote which was later withdrawn, but not changed. Even so, as Redd's petition passed it appears that the majority of FAPA want Walter Breen as a member. So be it. Obviously, I, who do not want him as a member, must either accept the will of the majority, or resign. As it happens, my Huff is in the repair shop right now, having its Snort realigned, and I am unable to go off in it; therefore I shall grovel humbly and snivelingly in the dirt before the Righteous Majority of FAPA and remain a member. (I wouldn't ordinarily do this, you understand, but Ted Johnstone says I have to if I don't resign, and as he is one of the RM of FAPA, I'm sure he must be correct in all he says.)

THE FAPA ELECTION is upon us again, and I am a trifle disconcerted to find that I am running unopposed for Official Editor. Don't you people realize the glorious opportunities the OE has? He could throw out someone's zine and blame the PO for not delivering it; or he could hold up someone's mailing for a couple months, or even not send it at all, once more placing the blame on the PO; or... . Yet no one else has filed for the post -- evidently there is no one in the organization interested in taking advantage of these opportunities. Worse yet, since most of the organization knew I had filed, it is evident that no one is interested enough to stop me from taking advantage of the opportunities. Or perhaps -- horrible idea -- perhaps no one believes I would do it? Perhaps they are right... . Just perhaps. Oh, well, everyone can still write in Rich Brown.... .

HAVING BUGGED several of you already, let's go into the mailing comments and see if we can continue the trend. It is deadline night, so comments will be brief.

PERMIT ME VOYAGE

A book of versus underneath the bow;
Attend the stern, all ways a head to plough
With one to point - the Apex of your sight --
At goals which must be kicked, an other Might Prevail for now, but soon the craft to side
Must go, in time -- to finish up de ride.....BEP

SYNAPSE Herr. Speer, you probably don't remember that William Tell takes place in Switzerland -- and that Hermann Gessler is the Governor who ordered everyone to salute his hat.

A wedding thoroughly fannish in decor and costume? Well, if anyone in fandom can arrange it, it'll be an Angeleno. Everyone would wear propellor beanies, the organist would play filksongs, the guests would sign in on stencils for the Guest Book (which would be run off during the reception), all the gifts would have to be fannish... I'm not sure it would be a good idea after all, Jack.

A FANZINE FOR NOW! "...I suspect I'll be able to get the Additions and Corrections to the old fanzine index into the next mailing." ...Alan John Lewis, FAPA 107, May 1964. Uh-huh, and I'll put that publication right next to that Oz book Ted White promised for FAPA about two years or so ago.

The next time you send in stencils to be run and type them so that no side margins are allowed, both Boggs and I may shoot you -- him for problems in duplication, me for problems in binding. (Though I suppose a backing sheet or pocket would solve my problem.)

SPINNAKER REACH Regarding the discrepancy in dates on Elmer's publication in the Feb. Mailing, where I said it was received 8 Feb and Elmer said the last page was stencilled 9 Feb: On 8 Feb there was a party in Dian's and my honor at the Ellik-Lewis abode, during which time one Elmer Perdue did hand me his FAPazine. So I'm afraid Elmer goofed the date. There have been times -- and there will probably be more -- when a zine has been received after deadline but before the mailing is finally assembled, and I'll list it as being received the deadline day (especially if the member needs the credit to save his membership), but as the FAPA deadline is always Saturday, this is a far less frequent happening in FAPA than in SAPS, whose deadline can be any day of the week.
