In Print

Jonathan Strahan passes on the following information about Eidolon. " Eidolon 25/26 shipped to the world in December 1997. Along with a new column by Greg Egan on physics, it includes fiction by Rick Kennett, Rosaleen Love, Terry Dowling, Russell Blackford, Sean Williams, Simon Brown and Dirk Strasser. Eidolon 27 is currently in preparation, and should be out no later than April '98.

Jeremy G Byrne and I have delivered The Years' Best Australian Science Fiction And Fantasy Vol.2 to HarperCollins Publishers Australia for a May '98 publication. The book will be published as a mass market paperback of about 470pp and sell for $14.95. The contents have been confirmed, but as we need to complete a few details. We hope to have a launch for the book in Perth at Swancon, and then do some East Coast promotions later.

We're redesigning our web presence and have changed our URL to www.eidolon.net and our e-mail to eidolon@eidolon.net (though our old address will continue to function)."

Stephen Dedman's "Schrodinger's Catalyst" appears in The Magazine of Fantasy and Science Fiction December 1997. Lucy Sussex has sold a story to F&SF.

Sadly, this month's remainder tables included Shannah Jay's Envoy and Paul Voermans' The Weird Colonial Boy

Gillespie Begins at Thirty

Aussiecon Three Fan GoH Bruce Gillespie would like it noted "On the third weekend in January, Bruce Gillespie celebrated, if that is the word, thirty years in fandom. At the Ferntree Gully home of John and Diane Bangsund, Bruce first met George Turner, John and Elizabeth Foyster, Lee Harding, Tony Thomas, Damien Broderick, Rob Gerrard and Paul Stevens. All, except Bruce, have since forgotten the occasion."

Broderick On Line

Jane Bledsoe of Avon books noted "In honor of the launch of Eos, Avon Book's new science fiction and fantasy imprint, we held an online convention on January 10th. The convention featured chats with Raymond E. Feist, Ben Bova, and Gregory Benford plus panels with Rudy Rucker, Damien Broderick, Severna Park and Dennis Danvers."

In Electrons

Ellen Datlow notes "Jack Dann's Titanic story, "Going Under" is now online at OMNI Internet. <http://www.omnimag.com/titanic/deep/index.html>"

Bullsheat Media Watch

John Baxter's biography of Stanley Kubrick is reviewed in The Age Saturday Extra December 20 1997 and in The Sunday Age 4/1/98. Terry Dowling reviews Kim Wilkins The Infernal, Stephen Dedman's The Art of Arrow Cutting and Greg Egan's Diaspora plus The Encyclopedia of Fantasy in The Weekend Australian Review 27/28/12/97.

Works by Gillian Rubenstein, John Marsden, Margaret Clark, Christine Harris, Claire Carmichael and Catherine Jinks got a mention in the summary of young adult fiction in The Sunday Age 4/1/98.

The ABC has been showing some old Australian short independent films including two featuring Bruce Barnes "Walter" and "A Mum's Christmas"; in the latter he has a speaking role.

"Trekkie guru" Derek Screen appeared under the headline "Keeping the FAITH" in the Herald Sun 7/1/98. In the photo that accompanies his profile, Derek stands in front of a Star Trek poster of James Kirk... Lucy Sussex reports "The December issue of The Australian Way (Qantas in-flight) magazine, featured an article on Australian crime writing, in which I was pictured, wearing my crime hat (velvet) and being described as a crime fiction historian." Lucy reviews three Australian mainstream novels in The Age 24/1/98. The ninth of Kerry Greenwood's Phryne Fisher novels, Raisins and Almonds, is reviewed in the same edition and again in The Sunday Age 25/1/98

In his guest editorial in the December 1997 F&SF, Gordon van Gelder looks at the "SF is dead" argument and mentions Greg Egan as one of the compelling arguments for sf in the 1990s being alive and well.

Damien Broderick has a column on regenerating telomeres to rejuvenate cells and its implications in The Age 23/1/98, followed up by reviews of How Nature Works and How the Mind Works in The Weekend Australian 24-25/1/98

Richard Hanley and the Star Trek Exhibit at ScienceWorks got the best part of a page in The Herald Sun 26/1/98. Multiverse was also mentioned.

Colin Steele notes "I reviewed over seventy SF/fantasy/horror books in The Canberra Times in 1997 (not all long reviews I agree). In the light of limited space to Van Ikin in The Sydney Morning Herald and Terry Dowling in The Australian this probably was the best coverage by a 'national' newspaper."

Editorial Note I must admit that the Bullsheat's Media Watch is limited by what I see and what information people send me. If you have material in the media, please let me know. I'm particularly interested in any mention of reviews of Australian SF.

Aussiecon Three

I keep hearing rumours that things are being done, but have seen nothing recently. There is no current flier, and too few copies of Progress Report One were sent to Australia.

Eric Lindsay

Jean Weber reports "Eric's doing very well, taking walks (even up hills, which is now allowed) as well as generally behaving himself. I haven't had to resort to the restraints. (Thanks to all of you who offered advice, assistance, and equipment - fortunately I haven't needed it. Thanks also to everyone who sent email or cards.)

Eric's working on his report, but slowly, and we're having some technical problems getting it all moved off his palmtop and onto a computer from which we can email it.

Eric does not have access to his personal email account at work, so anything you send there will be lost in the hundreds of messages piling up. If it's ever seen, it won't be for several more weeks or more." Messages can be sent to him through Jean Weber's Compuserve account. jean_weber@compuserve.com

Watson By Degrees

Perth Fan Grant Watson reports that he appeared in his local paper in connection with his play Degree Absolute which will be staged from February 12-15, 19-22. 8:00pm. at Gilkisons Basement corner of Murray and Irwin Sts, Perth.

Fan Movements

It seems a year for visiting British fans. Sometime Interzone Guest Editor Paul Brazier and Juliet Eyeions passed through Melbourne in early January. Ausie expatriate Judith Hanna and ex-GUFF winner Joseph Nicholas are due in February. Alan Stewart has been visiting hospital for exploratory surgery, but the results seem good. Rumour mentions a large but benign cyst.

Convention News

Karen Pender-Gunn reports that Basicon 2 made a $500 donation to Foodbank, the convention's official charity. The Post-Con report is due Real Soon Now.

Grant Watson gives the following list of authors who should be launching books at Swancon 23: Simon Brown, Dave Lockett, Sean Williams, Jack Dann and Janeen Webb.

Chris Ballis provides the following information regarding the Multiverse Costume Parade. "The Australian Costumers' Guild is staging the Multiverse III costume parade.

For all those who have volunteered to assist with the parade, and anyone who wishes to, there will be an informal barbeque meeting, Sunday, February 8, 1998, at 2:00pm.

If you'd like to attend, contact Angela Delacovo, the costume parade director, on (03)9773 2885.

The costume parade will precede the banquet. You can attend without attending the banquet (we just chuck you out before the banquet begins). People viewing the parade will also be served hot finger food and soft drinks beforehand (or cold finger food if the weather's stinkin' hot).

The parade and the banquet will be staged at a location a couple of minutes walk (or two minutes' drive) away at The Moorabbin Masonic Centre cnr Rowans Rd & Isabella St, Moorabbin.

Pre-bookings for the banquet are essential seeing it is fully catered.

If you have not received banquet information or the costume parade booklet and entry form, please contact Multiverse via e-mail or the postal address or telephone.

Niall Doran reports that the Thylacon 2 Web Page is up and running at http://www.trump.net.au/~s_newman/thylacon2/ There is a nomination form for the Australian Science Fiction Achievement awards, but no mention of the Atheling.

The 1998 FAAn Awards Ballot

The 1998 edition of the annual Fanzine Activity Achievement Awards will be presented at Corflu UK, the Fanzine Fans Convention, in Leeds, England, on the weekend of March 13th - 15th, 1998. Voting is open to all fans, and submission of the ballot by March 1st, 1998 is the only criteria for voting eligibility. It is not necessary to physically send this ballot for your vote to be counted: Votes will also be accepted via e-mail at fanmailaph@aol.com, and by telephone at 206-547-3520 (No calls before 9 am or after 10pm Pacific time, please).

Please list in order your top three choices in the categories of Best Fanzine, Best Fanwriter, Best Fan Artist, Best Letterhack, and Best New Fanzine Fan. Fan writers, fan artists and letterhacks should have been active in 1997, and fanzines published at least once during that year, to be considered eligible for the FAAn Awards. Fans whose first fanzine activity took place after January 1st, 1993 are eligible for the 1998 Best New Fan award. Nodistinction of media of reproduction or distribution will affect a fan or fanzine's eligibility.

Results of the balloting will be tallied on the following simple point system: A first place vote is worth five points; a secondplace vote is worth three; and a third place vote is worth one point. The individual or publication receiving the most points in each category will receive the award.

Please mail this ballot to Andrew Hooper, 4228 Francis Ave. N. #103, Seattle, WA 98103 USA, or e-mail to fanmailaph@aol.com. Please include your name and full street address below, so that you can be added to the FAAn Awards mailing list. Ballots must be received by March 1st, 1998, to be counted.
