August 1989

Mike Hodel's Hour 25—Science Fiction Radio
KPFK 90.7

J. Michael Straczynski hosts Hour 25 every Friday from 10pm to midnight on KPFK

Science fiction readings follow Hour 25, Fridays at midnight on The Wee Hours, with Chris Watson and Sue Cohen.

For those who know Laurie Reinecke; she was hospitalized June 18 with cancer, and had her spleen removed. She is homee again and apparently the cancer—Hodgkin's Disease— was caught in time, so that chemotherapy will keep things under control.

Cards, letters and phonecalls would be welcome. (Doom, gloom and/or negativeness would not.)

(Information from Bill Warren via Bruce Pelz)

COMICON: Make your own con. On Sunday August 21 Ninth Nebula is sponsoring its annual non-profit Comic Book Con #18.

Free tables may be available to LASFS members upon request and approval.

You will have to pass out flyers to promote the con. This is a thank you to my customers and it is my hope to expand the field of comics by transcending greed (and fear).

Admission is $1.50, it will be from 10:30 am-6:00pm. Phone Tues-Sat, 1-5pm, (818) 509-2901

An Alien Light

hb $18.95
Arbor, 1988

Nancy Kress is a damn fine writer. She's a writer of intelligence and passion. One who tells tales that wrench your guts and really make you think. And the stories never quite turn out like you think and/or perhaps, want, and Kress does this without forcing the issue. She has done this in all her books, so, in case you've been unaware of this superb talent, her other works are The Prince of Mourning Bells, The Golden Grove, The White Pines, and this marvelous new novel, An Alien Light.

On a windswept planet of desert and veldt live the Delysians and the Jelites. The Delysians are merchants and craftspeople, the Jelite tend toward warfare and healing and these two peoples are constantly in a state of either warfare or uneasy truce. Into this rather closed society plop, with requisite mysteriousness, the Ged, a spacefaring race who are curious about the human species. Apparently they have been at loggerheads for sometime with spacefaring humans. So establishing a huge compound in the veldt surrounded by a Great Gray Wall, certain humans with enough curiosity, are allowed into R'Frow, the Ged place and in exchange for superior weapons and technology, they remain passive to Ged teachings.

This, of course, takes many forms, though the Ged are ostensibly "humane" they are a fundamentally different race and their trying to grasp the slipperiness of human loyalties and intelligence proves to be the focus of their study.

The humans contained within R'Frow, Jelite and Delysian, find that they are very uneasy allies in the face of Ged strangeness. But old habits, old trainings, old social mores are not stripped away without ripping the fabric of the human society, and the desire for the Ged science, especially in the areas of disease control and weapons become the objects of struggle between the several characters central to this story. But it is the story of Ayrys, the Delysian glassblower and Dahar, the warrior-healer that reflects this struggle swirling through the book.

I actually have a small quibble with a subplot regarding some marooned spacefaring humans that seems a bit too pat and doesn't add anything to the strong central tale. But otherwise, this is a good a book as I've read in the last 12 months.

LASFEMMEFAN MARRIED

Peggy Little, beautiful blonde LASFan, known to some people as that good-looking lady who danced with The Emperor at EquiCon, and more generally as one of CL's Floozies at Loscons in the last few years, was married to Micheal Loehr on 10 July 1988 in an interesting ceremony in San Bernardino.

The ceremony was accompanied by a Musical Score, and when the groom made his appearance, he sang a number. He was followed by a rendition of "Old Souls" from Phantom of the Paradise, performed by recording by the bride.

A reception followed at nearby Norton Air Force Base (the father of the bride is a retired USAF officer). Both the bride and groom, who originally met because both were aspiring singers, performed with the band, as did surprise (but not very) vocalist The Emperor, belting out the sixties tune "Sea Cruise", between dancing with the bride and various ladies (and yes, for all you nosy parkers out there, I did dance with the youngest girl there -- I think she was seven or eight, and she asked me!).

The marriage is not expected to change Peggy's status as a CL's Floozie. Look for them at upcoming cons.

EARTH ATTACKED BY PLANET MARS

Los Angeles (CLJII Syndicate wire) Hurricane force winds lashing the coast have proved to be only part of world-wide disasters plaguing our planet. Earthquakes, tsunamis, volcanic disturbances, and gale-force winds have left hundreds dead in their wake, and no relief is in sight.

Earth's leading scientists are unable to reach a consensus as to the source of these disasters, but Doctor Hans Alexis Zarkov, only recently returned from his adventure on the planet Mongo, has advanced a theory involving intervention from another sphere, and intends to attempt another journey in his rocket-ship, accompanied by Dale Arden and polo star Flash Gordon.

Thus begin the thrilling adventures of FLASH GORDON'S TRIP TO MARS, the next presentation of the CL-odeon CLiffhanger Theatre, the 1938 Universal sequel to the most well-known of serials. Larry "Buster" Crabbe returns as Flash, with Kane Richmond, C. Montague Shaw, Anthony Warde, and Kenne Duncan as Martians. Beatrice Roberts stars as Azura, Queen of Magic, and Jean Rogers, Frank Shannon, and Richard Alexander reprise their roles as Dale, Zarkov, and Prince Barin. Donald Kerr portrays comedy-relief sidekick Happy Hapgood, and our old friend Charles Middleton returns as Ming the Merciless.

Based upon the interplanetary famous King Features comic strip created by Alex Raymond, this is the cheapest but most effective of the Gordon trilogy, with an assortment of alien races (transplanted to Mars for the sake of variety, and not to capitalise on the Mercury Theatre of the Air broadcast of "The War of the Worlds" as has been claimed for years).

"New Worlds to Conquer", chapter one of FLASH GORDON'S TRIP TO MARS, will be shown at 7:40 on 25 AUGUST, on the ancilliary screen in Freehafer Hall, before that night's LASFS Meeting. The remaining fourteen chapters will screen as usual on subsequent weeks.

MEETING MINUTES

MENACE OF THE LASFS: Meeting #2652 -- June 9, 1988
Mike Glycer, the Once and Future Secretary

Rick Young saw no Czarina on the horizon, so he gaveled the meeting to order. To put the members' noise to productive use he led three cheers for St. Jim Glass.

Glycer read the minutes. There was a flurry of discussion about which two minutes had been cut from KTLA's showing of Dune -- something about the Sandworms never being shown fully erect...

The Emperor Jackson announced he has now "permanentized" the tentative program for June 23 because Republic hasn't notified him they have retrieved the overdue Commando Cody episodes from that Texas tv station. But Charlie has faith those films will be back someday: because Republic won't rent them any others until that happens. The replacement program is a Rocky Jones serials, and those of you who don't believe in coincidence can go wild trying to explain how it is that the actor who plays Commando Cody's assistant also plays the role of Rocky Jones.

Charlie also warned that the next issue of Shaggy is in the works. He reminded us that Shaggy is exclusively available to members of the club...and anyone who has money.

Going for the hat trick, Charlie donned his third hat and reported as the Engineering Committee. He wagged his finger and said when the phone was ringing in the front building someone had to go past 30 other people to answer it. Somebody suggested giving up on the bell and installing a mallard call to attract attention. Frank Gasperik suggested replacing it with a taped announcement that shouts, "Hey, stupid! Pick me up!" Glycer said that wouldn't work, because it's already the LASFS males' standard pickup line.

Rick Young said there would be no gaming at the clubhouse on Friday night, in order to clean up for the Showcase. Craig followed with the Science Fiction Showcase announcement. He said the auction loot included a Japanese Empire Strikes Back poster. (Hirohito Wants You - Again?)

Eylat said she'd been away for a month-and-a-half, but was back again to urge people to write questions for her club project, an SF addition to Trivial Pursuit.

REGISTRAR: Dee Dee introduced: Robert Jablon, Helen Anderson, Terry McIlwaine and Wil Kingsley. A fellow named Chris got up and said he needed a place to live, "...And I'm talkin' immediately." He said he doesn't need kitchen privileges -- occasional use of a bathroom would be helpful.

Franics Hamit's play Marlowe is being performed, the spy thriller of 400 years ago. He auctioned off two pairs of tickets.

Galen Tripp said next Thursday is the De Profundis deadline. Jack Harness announced the Writers' Group would meet at Jor Jennings' home a week from Sunday. Adams Douglas beamed with pride that Stephen Hawking had made the cover of Newsweek, "The first theoretical physicist in 30 years to make the cover."

Craig Miller got the elections rolling, although the voters were momentarily distracted by the entry of Cheryl Chapman, who was looking particularly fabulous tonight.

Absent Sandy Cohen, Christian McGuire received his baptism of fire at the whiteboard. This may explain the following note that was received at the dais: "STOP, STOP, I CAN'T TAKE IT ANY MORE!! I am totally reconciled to the fact that all the candidates are totally corrupt and criminally insane. It no longer bothers me that the election results are rigged months in advance because we can't actually SEE the votes. And in any case, what difference would it make, because the voters, by and large, are a random collection of fuggheads. But please, dear lord, in the name of common human decency, can't you do anything about that man at the whiteboard?" Drew Sanders' solution was to ask whether we could nominate Christian as an honorary Sandy Cohen. "Honorary Sandy Cohen" sounds like another oxymoron, like military intelligence, or "interesting LASFS meeting."

MORE MEETING MINUTES

MEENACE OF THE LASFS: Meeting #2654 -- June 23, 1988

Mike Glycer, the Once and Future Secretary (quoting the great Arnold Schwarzenegger, "I'll be back...")

There was no Czarina in sight, so Mr. Rick took over the chores of running tonight's meeting. To assure there'd be no argument, Rick invoked the name of Patron Saint Ted Johnstone, and three cheers reverberated from the audience. Rick was taking names and numbers tonight -- he found the numbers in the Treasurer's Report. We have $9,906.42.

Glycer read the minutes. Christian McGuire tried to take some of his own numbers, correcting Glycer's report that Charlie Jackson had not talked about 115% overbooking for Roger Rabbit press screenings, but 150%. Charlie Jackson interrupted to say that 115%, the figure in the minutes, was right to begin with. Glycer said it was the first time he'd ever gotten anything right in the minutes, so it's a good thing he's leaving office in two weeks. John Lavalley merely complained, "'Roger Rabbit' is out of Toon..."

REGISTRAR: Dee Dee made one last sweep of the crowd before introducing guests Cassandra Zupke and Brian Zupke. Dee Dee and Adams Douglas had a gone at each other's pronunciation of the guests' names. Adams retaliated by writing the phonetic pronunciation on the whiteboard. Glenn Glazer came up and made an "improvement" in the diacritical marks. Glycer decided to add his own improvement, showing the phonetic rendering of Glazer's name is "M-U-D". Charlie Jackson decided Glycer had gotten enough things right, and said "M-U-D spelled backwards is D-U-M." Simultaneously, George Mulligan said, "M-U-D spelled backwards is D-U-M." Glycer said, "There's an echo in here." Charlie said, "There's an echo in here." Yes there is. Yes there is.

COMMITTEES: Rick Foss announced as Loscon 16 committee meeting for Saturday at 1:30 PM. New Program Czar Adams Douglas only knew next week's program -- he has to find the paperwork Craig left him. Next week will be Czarina Casey Bernay's "decoration." (Careful, that's not defloration!)

Galent Tripp called out from the back of the room, "Tell them to put aluminum cans in the recycling container," but everyone agreed he just had. Adams added there would be a paper drive next Sunday.

Charlie Jackson of the FCC said "We have declared war on Texas." The emperor is upset that some tv station down there didn't return the prints of three serial episodes he originally planned to show as tonight's program. Charlie said Dr. Pournelle is leading a scouting party into deepest Texas. (We had heard he was leading a scouting party into something deep, but we didn't know it was pronounced "Texas".) Alluding to the vengeance Pournelle is expected to reap, Charlie said, "You've heard of the scorched earth policy?" Bill Curry insisted they were having a drought there anyway.

Charlie reviewed the playbill of the Fourth-or-Final Week-End Movie Society showing this month, coinciding with the Emperor's birthday. Charlie promises an even more self-indulgent program than usual, including "G-Men vs. Everybody", as he calls the assemblage.

Wishfully, Rick Young tried to interrupt and take back control of the meeting, but Charlie ran right over him with more FCC reports. (As Charlie forged ahead, Glycer whispered to Rick, "It's been tried before!") The July FCC will be an hour of Laurel and Hardy comedies. Then Charlie took a show of hands on who would be interested in having "Felix the Cat" cartoons shown. Regrettably, there was a substantial burst of enthusiasm. Christian McGuire asked suspiciously, "Aren't those science fiction?" Charlie insisted, "No, there's no SF in them. SF goes over at LASFS like an iron beachball."

When Charlie returned control of the vertical and horizontal to Rick, Rick read Mrs. Robert A. Heinlein's card thanking the club for our flowers and sympathy card. Rick also announced news of considerable concern to members who know Laurie Reinecke, that she had been hospitalized for the removal of a cancerous spleen. The information, from Bill Warren via Bruce Pelz, was that her Hodgkins' disease is controlled.

When George Mulligan declared he would no longer be offering automobiles for sale, there were cheers and mock groans. Then he turned around and said, "...If somebody needs a bicycle..."

Rick Young said recycling aluminum cans brought in $90 last month. Glycer hawked Fanthology '86 for $3.00. Rick Young reminded people how little time they have to start making payments on Lifetime Dues in order to get in under the wire at the old rate.

Charlie, who had to present tonight's program, was busy finishing the APA L cover as we watched, and asked Rick to stretch out the meeting until he was finished. As a result we got to hear such thrilling reports as the availability for rental of yet another property in the mighty Hobbs real estate empire, this time a house on stilts in Simi Valley. Hey, I don't make this stuff up. At least, not all of it. Soon, Charlie signalled he was done with the cover art, and we adjourned.

EVEN MORE MEETING MINUTES

MENACE OF THE LASFS: Meeting #2655 -- June 30, 1988
Mike Glycer, the Once and Future (But Not Next Week's) Secretary

Outgoing Czarina Casey Berney called the meeting to order. The Secretary, who pays attention to such things, noticed her cleavage was off-center tonight: her Czarina outfit stayed the same size this term, while she shrank considerably. In fact, if we neglected to explain the reasons to future LASFS historians, they might be quite shocked to compare her "Before" and "After" photographs as President of LASFS.

After asking Glycer to make some historical comments about tonight's Patron Saint, Casey exhorted the members to give three cheers for Patron Saint (and Sacred Flying Disk) Alan Frisbie. During the process, Sylvia Stevens (the former Punfine Poster Child, visiting from New Mexico) uttered several atrocious puns. Despite never having laid eyes on Sylvia before, the Czarina tried to reinstitute the punfines on the spot.

Glycer read the minutes, which only served to renew the heated "Zupke (Zup-Key) Pronunciation Debate." Adams Douglas corrected Glycer's pronunciation so emphatically that Sylvia mistakenly wished him, "Gesundheit!"

George Jumper expressed concern at the Treasury figure quoted in the minutes ($9,906), wondering where the money went. He was probably not soothed when Casey flashed a $90 check, our latest recycling proceeds. Jumper said, "Yeah, that might pay the air conditioning bill from last night!" (Sylvia scampered to write on the whiteboard, "Recycle your old armor: the check is in the mail!") But when Casey picked up this week's Treasury report, it had a $14,660 balance. "What'd we sell?" asked an amazed Jumper. Glycer inspected the report and discovered Rick Young had read only the total of the main treasury last week, not including the Building Fund.

NEW BUSINESS: Marty Cantor, seconded by Mark Poliner and The Guy With The Sideburns, wrote: "Due to the fact that no officers have shown up tonight to open up the clubhouse at its appropriate usual time (6:00-6:30 PM) -- indeed no officers have shown up at the time this motion was written (7:15 PM) -- It is hereby moved that all of the current-term procedural officers who are elected for a 6-month term be summarily removed on the grounds of non-feasance with said removal to take effect at the adjournment of tonight's meeting."

George Jumper moved to table the motion for 400 years. Chris shouted out, "Wait, we need an independent prosecutor!" There was a mixed voice vote on the main motion, but the Buchman process (requiring a show of hands) resulted in the elimination of the motion.

COMMITTEE REPORTS: Galen Tripp announced tonight is the last night to pick up De Profundis while it's still just a suggestion instead of a presidential order. Heh -- Galen will find out about the strength of presidential orders the first time he orders LASFS to quiet down.

George Jumper, for the Committee on Surrealism in Everyday Life, reported the LA Times business section recommended reading a popular Japanese comic strip called "Japan, Inc." instead of wasting your time and money on an MBA.

Rick Young hyped the LASFS book sale. Sylvia Stevens, our past Committee on Surrealism in Everyday Life, who is now out there living it instead of reporting it, announced there had been a two-headed Indian man arrested for hacking off one of his heads, but they didn't know whether to charge him with murder or suicide.

Patrice Cook hawked Westercon memberships -- rates will go up after the holiday weekend. Program chairman Adams Douglas said tonight's program is the coronation of Czarina Casey Bernay. Casey corrected him, terming it her abdication. Adams said tonight we'd also be seeing the promotional rock video she directed. Next week it's an auction.

Hare Hobbs praised Who Framed Roger Rabbit as the best animation he's seen. Glycer sold File 770 like hotcakes. Then Casey closed the meeting by popping her champagne cork (and almost taking out an overhead fluorescent tube), and declaring, "I hereby abdicate!" Champagne, cheese and crackers were served: which those of you who were around in 1937 may remember was more than LASFS got when King Edward abdicated...

T U C K E R A W A R D B A L L O T

A new award was instituted in 1985 to recognize the activities of that heretofore unsung group of people known as SF convention partiers. Every award must, of course, have a nickname; the official nickname of the Award for Excellence in Science Fiction Convention Partying is the "Tucker".

The first two years awards were sponsored and administered by the St. Louis in '88 Worldcon Bid Committee, and subsequent awards are administered by a related group. The awards are nominated and voted on by members of Czarkon 5 (St. Louis' "adult relaxicon"), and the rest of SF party fandom via convention parties and any fanzines or SF Club newsletters willing to reprint the nomination form and/or this final ballot.

There are 3 awards: 1 each for SF Professional (writer, agent, editor, or dealer), SF Artist, and SF Fan. Couples or groups are eligible as a single nominee. Any SF convention partier over the age of 21 is eligible. Winners are not eligible for re-nomination in any category for a period of 5 years; losing nominees are eligible again the following year. The 1985 thru 1987 winners were:

	1985	1986	1987
Special Grand
Master Award:	Wilson "Bob" Tucker
SF Professional:	Bob Cornett & Kevin Randle	Glen Cook	Nancy Edwards
SF Artist:	David Lee Anderson	Dell Harris	Joan Hanke-Woods
SF Fan:	Glen Boettcher & Nancy Mildebrandt	Dick Spelman	Jack Jennings

The design of the physical award is a full bottle of Beam's Choice bourbon mounted on a base; the base has a plaque with the year, award name, and the winner's name. An instant tradition was begun in 1985: the winners received their awards full, but took them home from the convention empty (many self-sacrificing volunteers helped empty the awards). Any winner not physically present runs the high risk of having the award emptied by the designated acceptor.

To vote for the 1988 Tucker Awards, write a number from 1 to 4 in the spaces below by the names in each category, 1 being your first choice and 4 being your last choice in EACH CATEGORY. After marking your ballot, detach it along the dotted line and mail it to:

TUCKER AWARDS, PO Box 1058, St. Louis, MO 63188

Dear friends,

Please forgive this belated thanks, but the flowers you sent here when Robert died were lovely. The florist chose a basket full of spring flowers, suitable for the season, which came with your card of sympathy.

As I'm sure you already know, Robert was cremated, his ashes scattered at sea, with military honors. It might not be quite so well known, though, that he lied about his age, in order to become a civilian soldier when he was in high school. But he loved the Navy, and always regretted that his career in that organization was cut short too early.

Sincerely,

Virginia Heinlein
