This issue published by acting editor Tom Locke, and circulated by candidate editor Bruce Dane. Get your reservations in now. Room rates are $18.00 single or $22.00 double per night. Memberships are $3.00 now, through LASFS, or $4.00 at the door. 'Con chairman is Milt Stevens. Friday night will be reservations and party with cash bar. Saturday, there will be speakers including Ray Bradbury, Larry Niven, Jerry Pournelle, Larry Shaw, George Clayton Johnson. Sunday, various discussion groups will be held.

NOTE: The LASFS meeting December 4 will be at Freehafer Hall.

The 41st Anniversary Dinner was held October 3. Kris Neville, as announced, received the Forry Award. Tom Digby received the Evans-Freehafer Award. More than 60 people attended the dinner, but less than 20 had made reservations until the last week. This caused much confusion, and it is hoped that attendees of such events in the future will give more advance notice. It is badly needed.

LASFS GETS MIMEO - The LASFS now has a new Gestetner mimeograph. Members can have material printed for nominal fees. Paper is supplied, currently at $2.50/ream. The machine will accomodate both Gestetner and standard (4-hole) stencils.

Each Saturday, an Open House will be held at the Ackerman SF Library between 1:30 and 4:30 P. M. The address is 2495 Glendower Avenue, Hollywood, CA 90027. Call in advance at (213) 666-6326 to be sure Forry will be home.

YE ACTING EDITOR was unable to get this issue out earlier due to medical reasons. Reasons include nasal surgery and a post-operative illness. Recovery is now virtually complete, however, in plenty of time for relinquishing the editorship to Barry Gold when he returns from Japan in early December.

PROSPECTIVE EDITOR DESIRES JOB - Bruce Dane has stated he wishes to edit De Profundis. Though this is contrary to the recent tradition of drafting editors, and Bruce is a very recent LASFS member, he has past newsletter experience and it is expected Editor Barry Gold will favor the change. Bruce has access to a computer for hobby purposes and has taken responsibility for addressing and circulating this issue of De Profundis.
