

THE FANOCLAST WEEKLY V4 N1

SPECIAL FAR AWAY IN BUFFALO ISSUE

Gee, gang, remember the good old days when every laugh filled issue used to be a Special Issue. Those were the good old days. I really remember all the laughs those issues were filled with, too. Now that I have reached the fifteenth non-consecutive issue of TFW I feel that I have the tradition to uphold. Unfortunately, I don't have very many laughs to fill TFW with this issue. I could tell you all about what Rich Brown and I talked about on the phone, but I'm sure you were all listening in on the phone.

=====

I went into my room this afternoon (Saturday) and found a Strange Occurrence Occurring. One roommate was sitting on my bed, another was lying on the bottom bunk, and the third was lying on the top bunk.

"Mike McInerney!" said Joe Walcott from the top bunk.

"Tex White!" Ed Ostrowski snapped out tersely. Then it was Rich Pohl's turn.

"Rich Brown!" He intoned.

"What the hell," I said, " is going on here."

"We're having a contest to see who can name the greatest number of fans," replied Ed. As I walked out the door, I could here the little game grow more animated as names like "Dick Lupoff, Dian Pelz, and Pat Lupoff were shouted. I turned back and suggest the name Terry Carr. This only served to set them going again. It was then that I realized that one of my roommates, Rich Pohl, was Cheating. He had a crib sheet, the last SPECTATOR, to cull names from. I'm not sure what this little incident proves, if anything, but I thought you'd all better know, in case it becomes a Fad. The mind Boggles at the thought of "Name a Fan" replacing Battacelli.

=====

Speaking of atrocious fads, my beard seems to have started something. I've noticed a lot of the upper classmen, who don't have to be clean shaven for ROTC, are blossoming forth with goatees. There were one or two before, but now there are more than 20.

=====

I mhte that that guy that Dick Eney said wasn't a fan and so shouldn't be sent on a TAFF trip placed first in the egoboo poll in FAPA . Terry sure is fooling a lot of people into thinking he's still a fan isn't he? I also noted that Eney, aware that he would place low on the poll, took the chicken's way out and asked that votes for him not be counted. End of page and zine. See Y'all-A the K
