This is being stencilled Sunday night, and the possibility of my being able to concentrate on another song from the Three-Fanzine Opus in time to get it into this issue is nil. Especially when the next one is the "Cannon Song." I know there was an original German parody which started "Trufen, sie wohnen/ Wie Natursöhnen/ Von MYCon bis Mordor" ...but that was some time ago, and we're not doing a German parody any more. In September the parody will continue.

Meanwhile, for the next few weeks you get listings of my book collection. Assuming I have time for even that much participation in L to be stencilled and run during the next 17 hours or so..

NOTE OF APPRECIATION: To all attendees of the Virgilio Party, which was quite successful. A special note to the Warrens, Don Fitch, and Kathleen for the birthday presents, and to whoever washed up the stack of dishes that accumulated in the sink.

I leave on a UCLA Charter Flight at 8:30 P.M. Monday night, and get into London around 3 P.M. Tuesday. Assuming all goes well, I will meet the Main Charter a week from Tuesday (11August) when it gets into the other London airport. (I come into Gatwick; they come into Heathrow.) And I will see you the first of September, (Arrive LAX 12:15 in the afternoon, supposedly.)

Just for the record, I got my Liberty Paper last week -- as of 23 July 1970 (Judgement Book 6560, page 27, case D752 138) I am back on the marriage market. Have to see what I can do about that....
