

IPZIK!

IPZIK! #66 is written and published by Len Bailes of Box 14 Rieber Hall-UCLA, Los Angeles, Calif., 90024 for the 66th distribution of APA L. It is Bailesania #114 written on January 20, 1966. Just one more final exam to go, then I can get started on the 80 pages worth of fan stuff I've got to get published before February.

THE 'L' - YOU SAY

TYRO--(Schumaker) Hold on there, buster, when you start mouthing stuff like "our minds are too small to grasp it!" As far as I'm concerned, any meaning for life would have to be understandable, or else it wouldn't have a meaning. Perhaps this is a question of semantics, but stuff about not comprehending the mysterious purpose of existence is better left in the mouths of Ayn Rand villains. It's not God's purposes I'm worried about (if such there be), but my own. (although they may both turn out to be the same thing in the end)

FARGAS--(Kaiser) The idea of reviving The Best of Fandom is an admirable one, and I'll be glad to help you in any way I can with it, as I'm sure will most of the LASFS fanzine fans, but I'd suggest you steer clear of APA L. We already have our own anthology, and it would be superfluous to re-reprint APA L stuff.

I doubt that there's much worth reprinting in OMPA, but I suggest you get a look at SAFS and FAPA for material. Several items come readily to mind, but this can be discussed at the meeting.

GALLANT GALLSTONE--(Harness) Tsk, your APA L stuff is beginning to resemble your SAFS stuff. When are you going to publish some of the stuff you've had in the works? and that's our "stuffy" comment for this issue.

I do feel smug about figuring out your apaLpadder, even if Gil Lamont figured it out first. It merely shows that Lamont's braincells are slightly more defective than mine are.

RABANOS RADIOACTIVOS--(Patten) I wish you and Bjo would stop tossing my mythical attitudes toward LA parties back and forth making me look sillier on every round. I never said anything about LA parties being tame or boring. I merely mentioned that the Fabulous Fanoclasts seem to be better conversationalists when they are Stoned Out of Their Mind than some Lafans in a similar condition. John Trimble and Dave Hulan, however, are quite effectively loquacious when slightly high, unlike certain people who fall asleep in any event. Maybe the parties ought to be livened up to keep such people awake, eh? Smile Fred.

HOMBREN--(Mann) Oh well, somehow I get the impression that you're going to drop out of APA L. You know what that will do to the publishing race, I assume. Upon seeing this, I remarked to several people that if I ever feel impelled to do likewise I'll call mine "We're off to fight the Foe" #1. See you in the other apas. (I'm a masochist for making this comment... now I'll have to mail you a copy).

ODTAA--(Glass) I sure wish I had a bound copy of the 100th FAPA mailing, blue flannel cover, albino batskin or even in a dirty old jetapek bag. I'll be interested in seeing reactions to ODTAA when it's completed. At any rate it's a rather unusual approach to publishing a fanzine. (also appreciated the comic section from the Bruin... now I can bury mine with the rest of them)
