Mt. Holz Science Fiction Society
Club Notice - 07/12/89 -- Vol. 8, No. 1a

1. Ah, it's that happy time of year to get together with family and to renew old acquaintances. In specific you should be renewing your acquaintance with the MT VOID.

Take a new look at the MT VOID at all the fine and useful features it offers you. Those of you who chew gum can wrap wads of chewed gum in its pages. Those of our members who are exploring the Yukon can use it for tinder to build a fire and perhaps save their lives. (If you are looking for oil, by the way, go west, young man. All you need can be found at Prince William Sound. And while you are there, listen to the music. I've been hearing a lot about the so-called Prince William Sound.) Those of our members marooned on planets where evolution has taken a strange turn and apes are in control can use our pages to fold paper airplanes and impress the heck out of the natives. Do you want to give up all these good a useful features? Of course not.

Well, if you wish to continue to receive this great and useful publication you have to reregister. That's the rules of the Bell Labs Club that we have to play by so that we can continue to receive the princely sum of $50 a year funding. If we want to get this enormous sum we have to ask you to reregister. Now a loaded salary is about one dollar an hour, as a rule of thumb. So if it takes each of our 150 members five minutes to reregister, that means the company is spending about $750 to find out if we really deserve to get our $50.

Thus in an effort to speed you back to your work we once again have a streamlined reregistration. Just fill out the reverse side. Other than your name and PAN/SSN, fill in only the information that has changed, otherwise say "SAME." (Look how much loaded salary time would be spent comparing the your data against the data we already have if you filled in all the information.) Sign the sheet. Get a friend's signature and/or a pet's pawprint. Fold and staple the sheet following the easy instructions given and leave the result to your friendly smiling mail carrier. THEN GET BACK TO
