

OF MEMBERS AND 'ZINES (AND EGOBOO POLLS) Feb. 1978.

Let us see, where to begin. Begin at the beginning...I'm sure that someone closely associated with our title said; and so I will.

Oops! I didn't indent up there as I usually do. Perhaps the reason is that Bob indented once in his fanzine in this mailing when he doesn't usually...please to notice....

To the beginning...This index is published "in the hope (if that is what it can be called - certainly not the expectation!) that it will encourage all of us to vote in the EgoBoo Poll." Sorry folks, that isn't quite a quote, it should have been "with" instead of "in", just so Puffus doesn't feel he needs to go back and check. I got tangled up in trying to say that this index was to be included in the 162nd mailing of FAPA and to quote, I'd have had to say the 158th... and it isn't.

The index begins with mailing 158 and covers that issue as well as 159, 160 and 161. Material in the current mailing is not eligible for this year's poll. Each individual's entire FAPA activity for the year has been listed, by their name. I have tried to include all of each member's activity regardless of whether it was in their own fanzine or in another fanzine in FAPA. You all have been much better about signing your work. Many thanks.

I ignore all activity by individuals other than members (though sometimes I will include work of a member during the year in mailings either before or after that member officially entered or left FAPA, theoretically this status is noted).

I do pick up activity of members in franked mailings. Post mailings are included. Late mailings to the November mailing are in some jeopardy of being left out.

Correction to the 1976 index: Meade Frierson did not frank "New Orleans in '79" flyer.

1977 FAPA INDEX by calendar year.

Abramowitz, Alyson

Anderson, Karen	Goliard 850	8	Feb
Arthurs, Bruce D.	A Cranial Harp #3	6	Feb
	LepreCon 3	1	Feb
	Ego Trap	7	Aug
	Deadly Doom of Decollatio # 4	3	Aug
	Fagelfotter's Monster # 6	10	Nov

Official Editor mailing 161

Bangsund, John	The Great Australian Colour
	Book of Minac	2	Feb
	Stunned Mullet Number 5	8	May
	Stunned Mullet Number six	4	Aug
	Parergon Papers 1	7	Aug
	In the Gums of a Mumbling Gale	4	Nov
Berry, John	Foolschap # 12	8	Feb
Biggers, Cliff	Probability # 1	2	Aug
Boggs, Redd	Just West of the World
	Autumn 1977	15	Nov
Boutillier, Lester	The Best Ducks are Off
	the Wall	2	May
	Through the Past, Lightly	4	Aug
	Con Report: Rivercon III	6	Aug
	The Tiger is Loose # 9	6	Aug
	The Tiger is Loose # 10	6	Nov
Bowers, Bill
Breen, Walter	Allerlei: Annotated,
	Annotated Alice	14	Feb
	Allerlei August 1977	6	Aug
Burbee, Charles	Burblings # 2	3	Feb
	The Man from FAPA # 1	5	May
	Official Editor mailings 158, 159, 160
Burbee, Socorro	Coat-Tails # 2	3	Feb
	Coat-Tails # 3	2	May
Busby, Elinor
Busby, F.M.
Calkins, Gregg	The Rambling Fap 76	10	Feb
	The Fumbling Sap # Ugh!	1	Feb
	The Rambling Fap 77	11	May
	The Rambling Fap 78	2	Aug
	The Rambling Fap 79	18	Nov
	The Rambling Fap 80	1	Nov
Carr, Terry	Diaspar number 19	12	Nov
Chalker, Jack	This is Interjection	8	Feb
Chamberlain, C. Ross	Gnomen's Island No. 1	8	Feb
Chauvenet, Russ	Detours NS # 2	10	May
	Egoburboo No. 1	1	May

Cox, Ed	Esdacyos 25	12	May
	Little Green Things # 1	3	May
	Esdacyos 26	10	Aug
	Official Teller's Report	1	postmailed
Crayne, Chuck
Crayne, Dian	Cacoethes Feb 1977	4	Feb
d'Ammassa, Don	Humble Opinions # 1	8	Feb
	Humble Opinions # 2	4	Aug
Denton, Frank	The Yew Tree Inn # 2	6	Feb
	Scrambled Eggs Benedict no. 1	10	May
De Vore, Howard	Grandfather Stories FAPA February 1977	8	Feb
Doerr, Paul
Edmonds, Leigh	Ornithopter	12	May post- mailed
Eney, Richard	Target:FAPA	9	Feb
Evans, Bill	Celephais	8	Feb
	President mailings 158, 159, 160
	Vice-President mailing 161
Faig, Kenneth Jr.	Tekeli-Li # 2	9	Aug
Fitch, Don	From Sunday to Saturday	9	Feb
	From Sunday to Saturday	15	Aug
Foyster, John	Quantum Sufficit * 1	17	Feb
Frierson, Meade	Huitloxopetl January 16	6	Feb
	Huitloxopetl 12	4	May
	Huitloxopetl # 13	4	Nov
Glicksohn, Mike	Floccipaucinihilipilification No. 3	9	Nov
Glyer, Mike	The Speed of Dark # 7	12	Feb
	The Speed of Dark 8	6	Aug
	The Speed of Dark 9	10	Aug
	(includes Trivia 2)
	The Speed of Dark 10	3	Aug
Grennell, Dean A.	Grue	10	Aug
	Grue # 41	4	Nov
Handfield, Carey
Hansen, Charles

Hayden, Patrick	Ecce Fanno	17	Nov
	Owning Up #1	3½	Nov
Hickey, Rosemary	Cognate 2/19/77 (Society for the Preservation and Protection of the Great American Penny)	10	Feb
Hollyn, Norman	Big Mac 100	10	Feb
Hughes, Terry	Seeds and Stems Vol. 2 No. 5	6	Aug
	Seeds and Stems Vol. 2 No. 6	2	Nov
Hunter, Barry
Jeeves, Terry	ERG No. 58	22	May post- mailed
Koch, Irwin
Korbas, Charles	The Great White Also # 1	5	Feb
Locke, Dave	Little Green Things # 1	1	May
	The Best Ducks are off the Wall	2	May
Lyons, P. Howard	A Moving Experience # 1	8	Aug post- mailed
Markstein, Don	Philistine Quarterly # 11	10	Nov
	Iris # 7	4	Nov
Martinez, Sam	Sambo # 27	12	Aug
Metcalf, Norman
Miller, Ben W.
Miller, Craig	Ramsbottom # 2 (includes Directory to Los Angeles Fandom Jan-June 1977)	8	Feb
Miller, Don
Moffatt, Len	JDM Bibliophile # 22	12	Aug
Moffatt, June	JDM Bibliophile # 22	10	Aug
Moskowitz, Sam	Synapse	1	Aug letter
	Different November 1977	9	Nov
O'Brien, Michael	Fandom Goes to College	4	Feb
	The Twelve Million Dollar Man	2	Feb
	Ultimate South 6	2	May
	Ultimate South: Xmas 1977 issue	4	Nov

Pavlat, Bob	Bobolings	18	Feb
	Bobolings	6	May
	Bobolings	4	Aug
	Bobolings November 1977	3	Nov
	FAPA Book: The Mailings Section VI	29	Nov
	Vice-President mailings 158, 159, 160
Pavlat, Peggy Rae	Of Members and 'Zines (and EgoBoo Polls) Feb. 1977	6	Feb
	Of Cabbages and Kings (and Baby Turtles) Nov. 1977	4	Nov
	Annual Art & Celebrity Auction	1	Nov
	Vice-President mailings 158, 159, 160
Pelz, Bruce
Perdue, Elmer	520 07 0328	13	Feb
Porter, Andy	Twentieth Century Unlimited # 13	9	May
Raeburn, Boyd	Le Moindre # 34	8	Feb
Roberts, Peter	Crumbly Cowboy 1	2	Feb
	Gritbin 1	6	Feb
	Crumbly Cowboy 2	2	Nov
Silverberg, Bob	Snickersnee Volume One Number Aleph	8	Aug
Speer, Jack	Synapse	18	Feb
	Stunned Mullet Number six	1	Aug letter
	Parergon Papers 1	1 $\frac{1}{2}$	Aug letter
	Synapse FAPA 160	12	Aug
	Sec-Treas mailings 158, 159, 160, 161
Stevens, Milton F.
Tackett, Roy	Dynatron	8	Nov
	President mailing 161
Thorne, Creath	The Hog on Ice	8	Aug
Vardeman, Bob
Warner, Harry	Horizons, Vol. 38 No. 2	24	Feb
	Horizons, Vol. 38 No. 3	24	May
	Horizons, Vol. 38 No. 4	24	Aug
	Horizons, Vol. 39 No. 1	24	Nov
Wesson, Helen	Helen's Fantasia December 1976 (through Transylvania with cross & Garlic)	9	Feb

Westblom, Ulf
Woolston, Stan	Inside Viewpoint	4	Feb
	Looking Forward	4	May
	One Fan's Outlook	3	Aug
Wright, Bill	Prelude to Space	8	May
	Interstellar Ramjet Scoop	8	Aug
	Interstellar Ramjet Scoop	2	Nov

The end. Which leaves me some space for at least a few thoughts - or more properly wonderments...What is the equivalent of applause in other cultures? I had a couple of other wonderments, but I don't remember at the moment what they were. Rats!

Jack Speer put his mailing comments into a letter, so, let me share them with you, and answer his questions here:

"a small part of a large change or a large part of a small change' puts succinctly a matter on which i've contemplated spending paragraphs. ' It's misleading to talk about the Unitarian church in answer to a question about "why religion?" The only proper function of "liberal religion" is to free people from religion. The positives in the Unitarian church are liberalism pure and simple. -- Well, U-U have another function, though i'm not sure it's legitimate: To secure for irreligion the privileges traditionally accorded to religion, and to provide a convenient cover to people like Adlai Stevenson and Peggy Rae Pavlat who seek the votes of a public most of whom believe in God.

"resources for seniors'. Does that mean highschool kids or old people?" ((That means older people; never thought of the possible confusion.))

"You speak of Eric and long tales of these characters. Does he tell them to you, and you listen?"((No, I tell them to him, and he listens. No, really now...who do you think tells them? Or was your question referring to do I really listen? If so, well, sometimes I listen and sometimes I say later, and once in a while I blow sky high and tell him to stop interrupting me when I am trying to do something which requires uninterrupted thought. He's pretty good about getting the hint, that it isn't a good day to have a long chat when I give a warning growl. Poor Missy either is not so good at recognizing the warning growls or she forgets faster. Missy doesn't regale us with long tales, but she does like to "Mom." wait for me to ask "What?" "Can I ask you a question?" "growl" or "You just did" or something more civil --the first time, then comes the question or comment which (Mom thinks) could have easily waited till dinner time when we're all at the dinner table together anyway and is a grand forum for discussion.

The other night I was preparing a presentation about mental health to make to the County Council. Sorry for the wierd wording... The County Council asked the Mental Health Advisory Committee (which is set up to advise them, the County Executive, the Health Officer, etc. about mental health issues in Prince George's County; I am the current Chairperson) to make a presentation to them regarding the present status, the needs, and future directions (the first time the committee has made such a report - orally - since it was established in 1966) of mental health care in our County. Four of us worked together, each on a separate part of the presentation, to put together the presentation. One of my two chunks wrote itself without too much hassle; the other was a bear (integration of mental health services i.e. continuity of care). The real problem was that there is a new Director of mental health; and real problems in this area which I have some confidence will be resolved by the new director. How to present it without 'dumping' on the previous director, was my problem.

The health officer made my life easier (Humphf!) by creating yet another fiscal crises by transferring positions assigned to mental health but carried in other budgets into mental health -- without transferring the money to cover the salaries and fringe.

So I spoke to that issue instead. The only good thing which came out of his action. Made, of course, in the name of "fiscal responsibility" in the middle of a fiscal year. (Because of severe cuts in the mental health budget in the last two years, there was no slack in the budget to absorb this extra expense. The Council has (end of December) had a work session on the health department budget and (they thought they had straightened out the budget) made clear to the health officer their concern that mental health services not be cut.

Anyway, while I was trying to write my part of the above presentation, poor Missy kept interrupting me every twenty minutes with 'helpful' pieces of information. At one point she stood in the hall way while I was writing, starring at me - after having been growled at twice before in the last hour - I blew sky high (sigh). Then she told me that she was waiting till I wasn't writing so that she 'wouldn't interrupt me'.))

"I'm surprised at 'Space is not an issue in our house'. I feel I now have a pretty ample house, and our children are out of two bedrooms, but it's hard to curb my accumulative instincts and put the clutter in order often enough to avoid a feeling of being crowded.

"What angle of mental health are you working on? I've had considerable experience on the aspect of putting them away legally."

I've been interested in health care as an issue for some time, a friend got me involved with a Citizens Advisory Committee (CAC) for a Community Mental Health Center (CMHC) about three years ago, I had some extra time at that point and the interest, so I was the one from the group who was asked to represent the group on the County Mental Health Advisory Committee (the group I mentioned above).

We like to see our role as advocacy for the community (the right to efficient and effective mental health care which is appropriate to the needs of the individual), education of the community (stigma is a real problem, and many people who need the services don't know they exist until there is a real crises.), advising theyou name it and we advise them, making recommendations on state budget allocations most clearly, but his year also on County budget proposals, on programmatic aspects, etc. But trying to steer clear of administrative decisions without programmatic implications (broad implications).

It is a super group! There is enough differences in 'where we are coming from' to provide us with lots of different ways of looking at things - which I feel makes for better decisions; and there have been enough broad ranging discussions so that a broad based consensus exists on a substantial number of issues.

Have you ever been at the state mental hospital? Is there one in New Mexico? How about the rest of you? Tours are usually arranged without too much hassle, and it is an area which more folks should be knowledgeable about. If a tour is not easily arranged, that also may tell you something. If you do go on a tour, try to go with a group, others will have questions which you don't think to ask, it is more efficient use of staff time, and you will be able to 'debrief' each other after the experience. Ask follow up questions if an answer 'can be interpreted to mean two or more things'; ask the same question to different staff members. Take the opportunity to talk to some of the patients. Forget for a while they are patients, and just talk to them like you would a person you had just met at a conference. You may be surprised. (you may not.)

In the course of writing the above pages, I had reason to look up a couple of words in the dictionary (probably I had more reason than I knew, but let's let that stand). I was - somewhat to my objection; someone took my dictionary away from its rightful spot & I can't find it - using Webster's New American Dictionary, vintage 1971. It has a section on rules for spelling, let me quote: "Reduced to utmost and ultimate simplicity, the rules for good spelling are as follows: If a word ends in a mute, the o is dropped when a termination beginning with a vowel is added:" it gets worse, not better: "When a word ends in a double consonant, this ending is commonly retained in derivatives made by adding one or more syllables" and "In forming derivatives of words ending in y preceded by a consonant, the y is commonly changed to i before any termination not beginning in i". And they say budgets are difficult to understand!

I think I missed the little business detail of providing some basic information, so here it is: published by Peggy Rae Pavlat, 5709 Goucher Drive, College Park, Maryland 20740

Go forward, until you reach the end. Then end. Sounds like good advice, and we are almost at the end, so let me close by canceling the advise to look closely at the paragraph in Bob's fanzine which appeared not to be done by him. Bob thought it was the better part of valor to conflu it out. But didn't tell me until I had him read my first page referring to his effort. So, don't go looking, after all.

Have a happy and interesting and healthy time until I touch base with you again. It ought to be a busy year for me. So it may be a while. And end at the end.