

The Third Annual

ELEVEN-FOOT POLL

(for science-fiction that you wouldn't touch with a ten-foot poll)

For several years there have been numerous polls asking science-fiction and fantasy fans what were the best novels, best magazines, best fanzines, etc., of the previous year. The Eleven-Foot Poll fills a long-felt need - a way by which fandom can vote on the WORST items in these various categories. Eligibility for these categories shall be the same as for the corresponding categories on the Hugo ballot. Eligibility for categories not on the Hugo ballot is at the discretion of the voter.

Any person considering him- or herself a science-fiction or fantasy fan may vote in the Eleven-Foot Poll. Just as WorldCon awards are called "Hugos" after Hugo Gernsback, and Mystery awards are called "Edgars" after Edgar Allan Poe, the Eleven-Foot Poll awards will be called "Juniors".

All categories except "Worst Story Series" refer to science-fiction, fantasy, and drama of 1965.
