THE COMING OF EARTH SPACECRAFTS!

by Dr. Robert Ernest Dickhoff

(Dr. Dickhoff is a noted author and has written three major books entitled HOMECOMING OF THE MARTIANS, AGHARTA & THE ETERNAL FOUNTAIN all available from our society for $3.25 each, and is considered to be a leading researcher in anti-gravity research.

The only possible means by which man will ever reach the moon and beyond is by anti-gravity and magnetic driven spacecraft and not by the billion dollar rocket-racket which we now employ.

To convert mountains of steel and iron into shiny, ground controlled space capsules (manned or unmanned) is not only unsound but impractical. Such vehicles are insufficient when leaving earth for spacial adventures, explorations and colonization of unknown worlds and their satellites.

Without the proper thrust and escape velocity necessary we shall never leave earth far behind. Any successful space voyager must leave earth independantly of its own maneuverability, on its own sustained power and thrust. Envisioned landings on alien worlds must be accomplished without the whisperings of earth controlled stations. The true spacecraft must be able to take off without depending upon booster rockets carried the long haul from earth.

The spacecraft used for true interplanetary travel must make it back to earth under its own power. All other efforts are but a sham, a waste of taxpayers money, and our time.

As soon as this truth has been discovered and accepted the obsolescence of rockets to the moon and beyond is fully understood as being hazardous to human lives, men of science will look forward to the day when they can introduce the true earth created spacecraft.

Only anti-gravity and magnetic driven space ships are the answer to TRUE space conquests. This lays not within a range of impossibility and it is indeed far beyond the stage of fantasy-fiction.

Already dedicated and brave men are working to create such a ship and have already created workable models but lack of financial backing from private enterprises and support by the government, for reasons best known to themselves, has lead to their downfall.

FROM WORLD'S AFAR

The title song of the LP recording, soon to be released by FIELD & HARDY LTD of England, is one of the best by the Space Folksinger and contactee Mollie Thomson.

Through the valley walking, morning light was pale.

Trees for silent company flanked the leaf-blown trail.

As I climbed from slope to slope

The town lay there below me.

Strange to know - for all his works - man is very frail.

I stood on the hilltop, grass was damp and green.

High above then I looked up, wondering what I'd seen.

Through the lazy drifting clouds

I caught a flash of brilliance.

There is hovered, closer now, a disc of silver sheen.

Statue still I gazed at it poised up there so high,

Then it moved with lightning speed - slicing through the sky.

Suddenly I reeled and swayed

Lost my balance, stumbled.

Gentle winds swept over me, blowing back my cry.

As I lay in stunned amaze, flat against the turf.

Grassy waves moved over me, rippling like the surf.

What a strangeness met the eyes

That I dared to open.

For a ship for world's afar rested on our earth.

Men they were who beckoned to me, asking me to rise.

And I lost all doubt and fear when I looked into their eyes.

For they told me many many things

Born of understanding.

Countless questions that I asked brought smiling replies.

When they left they promised me that they'd soon return,

For to show us what life holds is their main concern.

In the town my friends all laughed

For they simply can't believe me,

But I know the time is near when we all shall learn.

FLYING SAUCERS IN ANTIQUITY By: Francisco Aniceto Lugo, Ph.D.

(PART TWO - Continued from last issue)

After that the fourth series of civilizations was born in which we now live.

But the important fact along these four cosmic catastrophes - apart from others of minor intensity caused by comets and other celestial bodies - is the substantiation of the presence of the flying saucers in all of them, as well as in any tremendous earthquake nowadays. This is probably because the extraterrestrials consider us as their offspring, although always taking care of not interfering with our affairs. This point of view is fully confirmed in the case of Jesus.

In the beginning, the first men from outer space - giants - implanted, in my opinion, the Christian idea, although Christ himself was yet to come far ahead in history. These men from space brought with them the complete elements of their advanced civilization and propagated the Christian doctrine in all its purity. They brought the cross from which the savastica originated. Thus, the cross is not an earthly symbol, but an outer space one. For this reason, the cross, being with us since the beginning of civilization, has been found in all the historical periods and in all parts of the world. (10)

The cross is not only a religious symbol but is rather a scientific and philosophical symbol of far-reaching meaning and represents the general laws of the universe and man. It must be borne in mind that it was conceived by those primeval beings when religion, science and philosophy were virtually a single thing. When the cross rotates its points bend themselves in a direction contrary to that of its movement and turns into a sastica. This one is a very important form of the cross.

Now then, the fact that the first inhabitants of the earth introduced the Christian ideas as a basic teaching (i.e. as the pointers of the best way of living), is very important indeed. Some scientists have found that when we go back to the early stage of civilization, we encounter the surprising fact that the religious and philosophical ideas are there more pure and more consistent. This is because we go to its source. (11) With the passing of time these ideas have been considerably altered and especially adulterated. Certainly, this is one of the testimonies indicating that the first beings from outer space brought here all the elements of a vast and profound civilization, which we later deformed, particularly on account of the great cosmic catastrophes that our planet has suffered, after which it has been necessary to reinstate all kinds of knowledge, after the falling into barbarousness.

But there is another fact still more important, and it is the constant preoccupation of these beings in molding our human mind in accordance with their way of life, particularly the spiritual issue. Thus, all the time they have tried to instruct us in harmony with those ideas. For this reason we find Christian ideas among us in the Rolls of the Dead Sea Scrolls, years before Jesus Christ, and at the beginning of civilization, coming from outer space, as it was deemed necessary, several outstanding teachers, such as Quetzalcoatl, Bochica and others, or occasional celestial emissaries like the god Samash, who gave his code to Hamurabbi.

Now then, the case of Jesus is the last one intended by the space beings so as to instruct us in the Christian ideas and the Christian way of life in general, and all this is very transparent throughout the New Testament.

So you see Jesus was announced a long time before his apparition. In those days several countries of the Orient, such as Pershia and Caldea, had magicians. The world magician in ancient times had a meaning different from that of today. A magician was a scientist or a sage, not a sage like a scientist of today, who knows only one side - the obverse - of knowledge or of Nature, but a scientist who knew both sides - the obverse as well as the reverse - of the Universe and consequently knew perfectly well Science as we know it today as well as those secret fields which comprehend the subtle forces of Nature. Due to this the magician could do miracles, or portents, and for this reason we are accustomed today at judging him as thaumaturge only. Now then a number of magicians were in touch with beings from outer space and knew, beforehand, that Jesus would come from the Heavens. Thus, when the star of Bethlehem (claimed by many to be a flying saucer - an idea we must respect) entered our atmosphere the magicians hastened to meet it and to greet respectfully the Savior.

At this point it is convenient to note that no one has been able to discover a natural explanation for the Star of Bethlehem. The noted astronomer Kepler interpreted it as the result of a conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn, or a second conjunction with the addition of Mars. How this is possible we do not know since no star can stop itself, in the natural order of phenomena, and the Bible says clearly and unmistakably that the star of Bethlehem went before the shepards that stood over when the young child (Jesus) was. Now then, no star can do this. Only a flying machine could manover to this degree.

Let us briefly summarize the principal facts concerning the star of Bethlehem and Jesus. Angel Gabriel came, as a messenger from Heaven (or outer space) and told the virgin Mary that she would give birth to a child, who would be the Saviour. But Mary, astonished retorted: "How shall this be, seeing I know no man?"

It is clear, and logical, that if you say to any virgin woman: "You shall give birth to a child," she must think that this child will come into the world at least seven months afterwards, and she would show no astonishment. The astonishment of Mary reveals that she would have the child almost immediately, and this was probably the case. Of course the angel took care in making the entire affair appear as human as possible so that no interference on behalf of the beings of some other world would be suspected.

Now let us see the posterior facts. The magicians, who knew, as I have said, the forthcoming advent of Jesus, departed from the Orient following their way as marked by the passing of the star of Bethlehem. Their three camels disturbed the night silence, and the feet of these ones fanned the dust of an eastern village street. Then the three magicians projected their shadows on the soil as they rode in search of the star of Bethlehem. Then Melchor asked their two illustrious companions: "Where is it?" "It must be now high in the sky," replied Gaspar. The three magicians, mounted on their camels, followed their way for a while when suddenly Balthazar cried out: "Look! There it is!"

The star of Bethlehem navigated solemnly throughout the starry heaven, in the direction of Judea.

The magicians hastened to follow it, touched and admired. Then the star of Bethlehem, on board it a child of less than two years of age, descended to earth!

"And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flocks by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid." In modern day language this means that the angels descended in their flying machine and the intense light of this enveloped the shepherds and their flocks, and all of them became afraid.

"And it came to pass (the Gospel continued) as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another: Let us go unto Bethlehem, and see this thing what has come to pass, which the Lord hath made know unto us." You can see, in reading these passages, that the angels came from heaven and went back to it in flying saucers.

Meanwhile, the three magicians travelled fast and soon reached Jerusalem. However they soon had lost track of the star. Many illustrious personalities of Jerusalem came to greet them respectfully, and King Herod the Great asked what he could do for them. The magicians answered that they had come to find the Saviour and asked where he had arrived. The King told them that the star had followed the direction of Bethlehem, that they must go to that village so as to find him, and when they did to let him know what he might do to adore this Savior. But what Herod really wanted was to eliminate Jesus as he thought that the Savior would shake his kingdom.

After the magicians had found Jesus, adorned him, they wished to come back by the same route they had travelled to Bethlehem but in a dream an angel told them: "By no means go back by the same way that you have followed." They obeyed and when the King found out he became very angry, because he felt himself scoffed by the magicians, seeing his kingdom in danger. So in order to eliminate all possibilities of peril, he immediately ordered that all children under the age of two be put to the sword.

The incident which I have just described shows that Herod knew that the Savior was at that moment less than two years of age. This clearly shows that Jesus was not actually born on our world.

As to the frequency with which UFOs descended to earth in the time of the Bible, and BEFORE, is well documented. There are books specializing in accounts referring to the Biblical flying machines.

In conclusion it is obvious that man of today has lost their contact with beings from outer space. They are thus handicapped by their lack of spatial mind, and therefore are unable to understand and accept fully these truths.

(11.) In the beginning, we had all the elements of civilization brought here by our most remote forefathers. Later on, due to cosmic cataclysms, this civilization ended, and we turned into barbarians. After that, we had a new rise of a new series of civilizations. This process repeated itself several times.

FROM HERE AND THERE

Mike Generelli, Jr. of our staff is now serving in the U.S. Army currently stationed in Rome... From Youngstown Ohio Vindicator of August 20th comes the following report thanks to our good friend Jim Capots, Jr. "4 East Liverpool boys, aged 12 to 14, who were sleeping in the backyard of one youth's home, reported an object the size of a baseball infield hovering over the Pleasant Heights section of East Liverpool at the same time a fireball was reported over the Eastern United States today. The boys were terrified at the sight of the thing and ran for a nearby home. One of them, who stayed outside to look at the object, said a door opened at the bottom of it and a light ray came from it striking him in the side of the head causing his hearing to be defective for a time." This appears to be another case where the UFOs are using some type of biomagnetic force as described in an earlier issue of SEARCHLIGHT... Interplanetary News Service Assistant Director, Lucius Farish, has a feature article entitled UNIDENTIFIED AIRSHIPS OF THE GAY 90's in the Nov. 1955...

(12) Flying machines or flying saucers are depicted in the Bible in several ways, and in the Vedas, especially in the Ramayana where they are minutely described.

CONSPIRACY OF SILENCE

BY RICHARD S. SHAVER

Saucer buffs make a great deal of noise on "Why the government covers up" on important cases. "What are they fibbing for" etc. Personally I have run into the same thing in government offices and from other high authorities who owe it to themselves to show a little genuine interest.

Now here is what actually happens in the Pentagon, in newspaper offices all over the world when saucers or Shaver's rocks, or several related subjects crop up.

The PHONE RINGS and from high brass in the Pentagon on down to people like you and I a voice informs them that said subject is Verboten... not to be mentioned, is TOP SECRET and hush hush. In any one of a dozen ways and phrases they are told exactly what they expect to hear letting them in on a secret but keeping everyone else out. This makes them feel very important and keeps anything sensible from being done about these subjects.

When it comes to saucers the brass thinks this voice over the phone is something very special from Secret Intelligence. Orders are to keep this information on the Q-T. When it comes to my picture rocks the same things happens.

But no one in the Pentagon or in the newspaper office has ever had an impulse to check out such hush hush phone calls to learn if they are genuine or not!..They KNOW they are genuine because they have ALL the information and they have all this information because the phone call is really from people who have the TELAUG and reads the guys mind before they themselves phone.

This use of the telephone is only in recent years. In the old days it was done by a courier, or a messenger with note in hand. But it has always been done to keep the telaug itself a secret and the saucers the same. This goes for anything else connected with pre-deluge civilizations.

Palmer and editor Beckley all know this but go the same road of silence out of pure funk in not understanding that such phone calls are no more important than or to be feared than wind in the willows.

But how to get this across to those in government jobs, newspaper offices, who should know this FACT is indeed another problem.

YELLOWSTONE LAKE REMAINS A PUZZLE

For more than a century there have been reports of weird music heard floating across Yellowstone Lake in Yellowstone National Park, Wyo., the National Geographic Society says.

"The sounds resemble the singing of telegraph wires, or the hum of bees, beginning softly in the distance then growing rapidly plainer until directly overhead and then fading rapidly in the opposite direction." according to Clyde Bauer a geologist and formerly the chief of naturalist at Yellowstone Park.

The mysterious music has also been linked to a dirge played on a giant pipe organ or the echoing of distant bells. The sounds have been heard most distinctly in the early mornings of cloudless breezeless days. One ranger says he heard them for nearly a month. John M. Good, the park's chief naturalist admits freely "No one has the faintest proof of what causes them."

BOOK NEWS

U.F.O.'S AROUND THE WORLD - Edited by Timothy Green Beckley & Edward J. Babcock Jr. Introduction by former U.N. Aid, Colman Von Keviczky. ($3.00)

Already this book, just out, has received rave reviews from around the world. For the first time since INSIDE THE SAUCERS the editor of SEARCHLIGHT has presented a large volume of information that deserves to be in every researcher's library.

Chapters in this book are by such well known UFO authorities as Jacques Vallee (author ANATOMY OF A PHENOMENON), Frank Edwards, Prof. Hermann Oberth, Antinio Ribera, Stan Seers. The list goes on and on.

From almost twenty countries (including a special section on Russia, Cuba & Red China with landing reports and contactees) researchers have contributed to make this perhaps the best UFO book in the past five years.

In brief Coral Lorenzen, Director of APRO says about UFOS AROUND THE WORLD: "It is indeed gratifying to know that someone else realizes the importance of global sightings. We have been fighting this battle against provincial U.S. researchers for over 12 years since the weighty evidence of the 'little men' in Europe and South America made itself evident in 1954..." NICAP says "Highly recommended"

Here is indeed both a scientific and an attention getting volume that we believe you will read time & time again.
