

Transitional Minac One (and hopefully, Only)

Naomi here.

It's really hard to write at this time - Pat and I lost Stinker last week, almost exactly three years from the day Bosco died. I'll write quite a bit more about that later, but I don't feel up to dealing with it in print quite yet. I'd hoped to just finish the mailing comments I'd started and then complete writing my 'zine later, maybe as a postmail, but I don't want to hold up the already delayed mailing. So I'll postmail around the end of the month or the beginning of May, when I finish thinking about all of this. Just wanted to let you all know, I'm coping. And Nicki, thank you so much for asking Sheryl Birkhead for vet advice for Stinker. It was an incredibly considerate and kind thing for you to do, and it was really nice of her to provide so many suggestions. Pat and I appreciated the thought, more than I can say.

And, as something that should be done right away, and not postponed till later - happy stuff first, serious stuff when there's time...
