

This is published for APA L, 33rd distribution, 1451st LASFS meeting, by Barry David Gold, 13442 Margate St., Van Nuys, California. Phone: 213-789-2860

The impossible we did yesterday-- the inconceivable may take us a few minutes longer.

#33

There have been several requests for stories of Lloyd House RFs, so I have decided to tell the story of the great San Marino RF last year. It all started at the beginning of 2nd term last year. A Sophomore who had flunked out, JERRY D. Simpson, decided that High School was more fun, so he got someone to forge his guardian's signature, faked a San Marino address, and enrolled in San Marino High School as a junior. After a few days, he decided that High School life wasn't so great after all, so he decided to leave in a really spectacular manner. He got 5 Lloyd Frosh together and planned and staged a fake kidnapping. The 5 were Card, Beeson, Bricken, Ratsch, and Bell.

The next day, while Simpson was in his 2:00 class (English), 5 tough looking boys showed up and asked if they could speak with him. The English teacher, MR. King, said that they couldn't take him out of class without permission from the office. Simpson decided to take matters into his own hands, and went for the window. The 5 rushed him, caught him, and dragged him out of the room, with some fighting. About halfway down the hall, he broke free, and started running. As he neared the edge of the school grounds, they caught him again, loaded him into a car, and took off. (This was what was seen by the spectators).

Now, what really happened. Simpson, noting that Mr. King was about to mess things up, made for the window, but allowed the 5 to stop him. They quickly found that dragging him was a slow process (even though all the spectators were paralyzed with fear) so he got up and ran most of the way to the car, then let them load him in. The car went back to Tech. All quite funny, you say? It was no laughing matter. MORE on this later.

32.5 F0RMAT(6Hbbbbbb), being random comments on APA L 31.5

COVER (Dian Pelz): Very Interesting.

HET BPEMR #31 1/2 (Bruce PELz): I am rather interested in the job of secretary, and while you may find robert's Rules type minutes dull, I can assure you that they won't be long, since they only show business, not the asides of the members.

THIS IS HANK STINE SPEAKING #1 1/2 (Henry Stine): Gaah! What awful writing. Go back and try again, or give it up entirely, ~~Waley~~.

THE GALLANT GALLSTONE #31 1/2 (Jack Harness): You might be right about Davy, but I doubt it. Davy seems more on the order of simple projection and Allegory than it does symbolism. (I can't trace that sentence, either.)

Shirepress Publication #78

RABBIT SPECIAL (Martha Randall): Where did you come from?

AVØL #5 (LeeJ): I think EdCox is a hoax created by DHulan and you.

33 FØRMAT(6Hbbbbbb), being random comments on the 32nd disty.

COVER (Simpson '65): I know who Simpson is, but who is '65.

TABLE OF CONTENTS (Officialdom & Harness): Alright Fred, you asked for it. Hooch, where are those 35 copies of the NY metropolitan directory we've been saving?

Error!. Error! Error! A Kraken must have at least 10 legs, preferably 12. (See Dwellers in the Mirage). That's just an ordinary inter-quasi-stellar octopus.

HET BPEMR #32 (Bruce Pelz): You, too are a cultist, obviously. The least you could do would be not to warn Gilbert.

NIDDHOGGER #21 (Dave Hulan): I dislike being cut out of any wine tasting. I like the taste of many wines, and I never get drunk.

BARAD-DUR #9 (Mike Klassen): Darn right. Hilda has a rather crude (Fred calls it gøøð primitive) style--very shakey & with a minimum of lines. As I said to Bjo in person, Dr. Lucas states that Pornography is not harmful. My own belief is that if they're young enough to be harmed by it, they're too young to understand it, so why worry?

#32 (Me): I'll probably catch it from the Objectivists this week, and FINGLE knows I richly deserve it. I left out the word "liberal" in the HUAC article. The line in question (don't worry, it will be, as soon as Stine or Baker sees it.) should have read: "...cooperation from the LIBERAL intellectuals." Obviously, there are other kinds of intellectuals besides liberals.

RABANOS RADIOCTIVOS! #32 (Fred Patten): You'll get the 50¢ from me, if I have it! Right now, I may even have to copy Objectistine and deadbeat at LASFS meetings.

Q #11 (Dan Alderson): Whaah?

WHAT SHALL I CALL IT #5 (Bill Glass): I. 1. is Lazarus Long, in Heinlein's Methuselah's Children; 9. means "hope" and is the Sindarin(?) name of the Ranger Aragorn in J.R.R. Tolkein's Lord of the Rings. He is also known as Aragorn, Strider, the son of Arathorn, Elesar Telcontar (Elfstone, of the house Strider), King of Gondor and the Western realms, and the Dunadan. Did I miss any? II. 2. is from Magic, Inc. (Heinlein)

KATYA'S KORNER (Katya Hulan): Bullet proof shirt made of Titanium and Nylon? A real honest to gosh Mithril METal mail coat, straight from MORia, even.

OPO #45 (Dick Lupoff): These Disclaves sound interesting.

IPZIK #32 (Len Bailes): What do you expect me to do when I change format & subject matter but go on to a new zine? And I have just about 60 zines on my own, anyhow.

WRITERS (Argosy): Gaak!

EXPLETIVE # (Bjo): Please finish the comic strip, please. Even the serious menu is half joking, although more or less accurate.

THIS IS HANK STINE SPEAKING #2 (Henry E. Stine): All right, where are those stencils. You've been promising to return them for a month. Hmm. California law authorizes interest in the amount of 8%.

A FANZINE FOR JACK HARNESS (Fred Patten): I didn't see any Theta's. Maybe a Phi or a Psi, but no Theta.

MALAISE #32 (Steve Stiles, Ted White, rich mann): I think your synchronization is going again.

THE GALLANT GALLSTONE #31½ & RABBIT SPECIAL: see above

O #12 (Dan Alderson): LoTR itself says that there were evil beings totally unconnected with Morgoth or Sauron. (See "The Watcher in the Waters" in I Palantir #3.)

SPIROCHETE #7 (Redd Boggs): Please spare us this.

AT'S ALL SHE 'ROTE #3 (Terry Romine): Does everybody have to write purple prose? Explain your illo, please.

HOMBREN #32 (Rich Mann): 2. Gallegher's robot. 3. all false. 4. No 5. false 6. official dog 7. b 8. time 10. c 13. a 16la 17. no 18. the Doshes. What kind of quiz is that?

CARCASILLA #32 (Tom Gilbert): That's ridiculous.

MAYHEM ANNEX #4 (Ed Meskys): Gee, and I love Lapsang Souchong. But I like smoked fish too. Caltech can run off ditto masters or 9 hole stencils at 45¢/100 sheets for white paper or 55¢/100 for colored paper.

NUISANCE FANZINE #9 (B&D Pelz): How come I can't find Bill Glass in that Directory? Is he a hoax? Are you going to continue what appears to be Tower Comics #2?

end of comments

And now, back to San Marnio. Through a late arriving photography car, the 5 were traced back to Lloyd House, so they went down to the station to be booked. They were charged with interfering with the operation of a public school, given a 30 day sus-pendent sentence, 31 days probation, required to work 4 days a piece, and at the end of the 31 days, their records were sealed, so that they would have no records. Their lawyers fees came to $500. Simpson was ordered to stay off institute property, 4 of the frosh were put on institute probation, and Bricken was suspended indefinitely because he refused to apologize. The faculty tried to get the Board of Control to take jurisdiction, but the BOC ruled that no violation of the honor system was involved. With some difficulty, Dr. Huttenback, the Master of Student Houses, convinced the faculty ad hoc committee to refrain from disbanding Lloyd House as a menace to society or something, and we were fined $150., of which $100. were later returned to help with the lawyer fees of the 5. We were ordered to elect new officers right away, instead of later that term, but the old officers were not forbidden to run, except that the house constitution forbids the seniors to run for house office. All told, we got off fairly easy, considering.

Hoping I'll find an ending...

RRK

