Addenda: a few of the above received incomplete copies but with your Distributors usual efficiency, the notations on that have been lost. Bjo Trimble's Expletive arrived too late for inclusion in the table of contents to the fourth distribution, but was included in the distribution anyway. One of these days we will get around to making up a cover and table of contents for the fifth distribution, although the Distributor has been getting static about it being a Post Mail-ing. Tough luck. I'll try to have it out next week. Happy Thanksgiving.
