For the first time, I've thought it best to censor a fanzine from Apa L entirely, because I feel that the subject which it discusses has no place here, and would do more harm than good both here and, more important, to its subject itself. This hurts, because I'm against censorship myself, but I've done it because I do feel it's best for all concerned. Its publisher can hand it out in person to those concerned with the matter, if he considers this best, but spreading it around to a wider audience in Apa L will not help matters a bit, and will impede a peaceful solution. [N.B.: no, this does not have anything to do with the Bjo-Jean situation and it is not being censored because "Bjo told me to", as word is already having it. This is a decision I arrived at as
