

FARGAS...NUMBER SIX.....

Edited, and published by one: Dwain G. Kaiser...1397 No. 2nd Ave., Upland, California-91786 (or so the postawfuls keep on telling me)... Cross my palm with silver and I'll put you on my mailing list, otherwise it means that you are a fellow member of that group known as APA L... otherwise known as a "damn weekly apa...."

It's a pretty typeface, but does it mean anything?

As fandom goes I get a fair amount of egoboo each week from LoCs on my gen, or apazines... As a matter of fact I even get LoCs on my APA L zines once in awhile, but ususally (?) I don't print them since they are way out of date...but the need for printed egoboo calls, and besides I have wordage to write, and pageage to fill, and I'm a long winded son of a gun anyway... so on to one certain BNF )(as anyone who writes comments on my APA L zine is likely to be judged, beware all you neofans...lest you become a publishing idiot like myself...stay away from locking my zines, locking them up anywhere, I don't dig things like that)(.... Jack Speer, followed by some address or another.....etc., etc., etc.,.....NOW SOME COMMENTS ON HOUSE OF THE GAMES..... There's a great deal of blithering in #26, but there was also some substance, and I'll limit myself to that. (- oh well, I like short LoCs anyway....-) I don't know what may have been mentioned in the preceding discussion, but there are other ways to increase the profit margin in a business. For example, increase sales and production without increasing the work force, or without increasing costs generally to the same extent. It would be surprising if unions were aggressively in favor of cutting the work force, but most unions are fairly enlightened about the consequences of automation, and by and large they accept it. This is considerable progress over the machine-smashing in the Industrial Revolution.

Another thing I like about ditto is that it's much less trouble than mimeo. You don't have to worry about the inking.

What's this about a new Boston arising from the ashes of the old? " Can you give me an address from which to order the 1951-1964 prozine index... (sure... will write to you with it... have a copy at home, this is being typed elsewhere....)

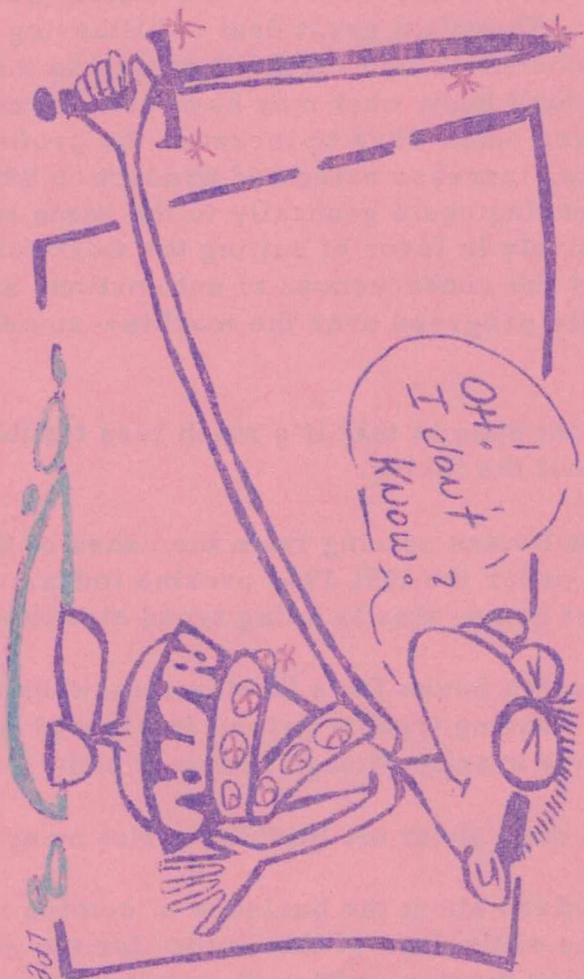

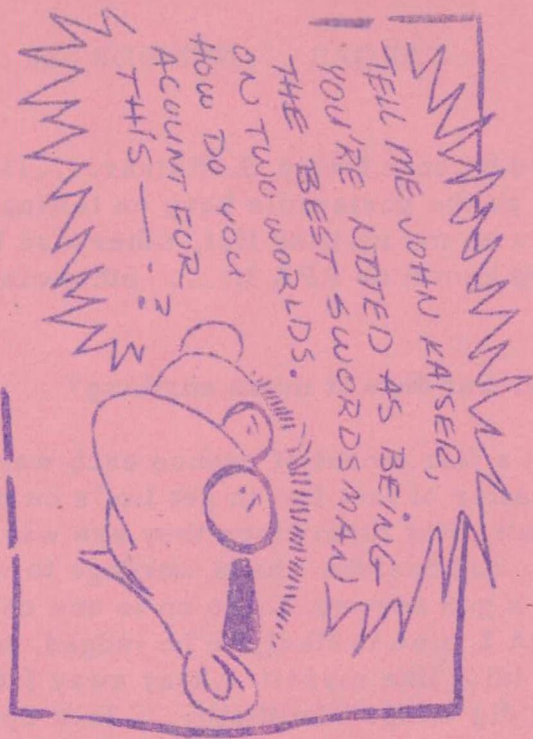

I should think you can catch Seven Days in May somewhere in the film capital. It's very good; I'm having trouble getting interested in the book because it doesn't follow the movie exactly (though I know it came first).

You were born just ten days about my birthday. Not many Leos around.

Yes, something I've noticed about the burlesque of comics in MAD etc., is that they often go back to the early days of the comic for the story the burlesq. Partly I suppose, because they're written for adults who remember the early plots best.

This letter has run into another year, and I'd better choke it off and get it mailed on the morrow. (-and I think you for writing it...-)

Jack Speer

1960 65

Most of you out there in APA L land are waiting for egoboo, egoboo, egooooobooooo, am I not right? So with that thought foremost in my mind (a very milky mind for sure. . .) I shall go on to mailing comments. . . .

Now on with APA L #62. . . . . from "L" onward to darker deaths. . . .

From Sunday to Saturday. . . .

Why should Christmas be a time of joy and gladness? It should be a day when we all fast, and not speak to each other, a day when we all turn to our inner soul, a day to look at our past sins, and decide never to sin again. It should be a day of sadness. . . . a day of goodwill towards God, not a day of goodwill towards our fellow man. . . . Not to say of course that there shouldn't be a day of goodwill towards our fellow man, but there should also be a day when we look God in the eye, and decide to improve ourselves.

Why Christmas cards? It should be a day of fasting, and a day when we should not speak to each other. A day to look at our past sins, and decide never to sin again. It should be a day of sadness. . . . a day of goodwill towards God, not a day of goodwill towards our fellow man. . . . What does Christmas cards have to do with all of this?

For solving your problem of giving Christmas cards I would suggest you save your money and give it to your nearest Church. . . . Doesn't really matter what Church. Even giving it to the First ~~Church~~ Church of Donald Duck is better than spending it on Christmas cards, and Christmas presents. . . .

(don't read the above, I think I'm drunk today. . . . .)

Of course, for the last twenty years there hasn't been a fan who hasn't published anything but crud. . . . ask any true fan of twenty-one years ago. . . . Personally I think all fanzines should be run off on a photocopier. . . . at three sheets, or four sheets a minute. . . that way we would cut down on all kinds of material run through fandom today. . . . If Barry Gold has to print his Purety test that way, he might have got it done, but he sure wouldn't have had anytime to work on losing points. . . .

J. G. Personally I don't know if having your zine on the back of mine is so good. . . . After all you wouldn't want your zine to be mistaken for the second page of mine would you? Personally I couldn't think of anything worse which could happen to a fan. I don't like my stuff being published under my own name myself, that is why I write under the name "Barry Gold", along with that of "Arnie Katz" and "Jack Claker". I might not do much of anything, but I sure get noticed. . . .

Hombren: I don't believe a word of it. . . . We're still here, so you couldn't have visited L. A. . . . .

Gregg ~~Wolfe~~ Shaw. . . . . I don't believe in you either, even if I did put you on the evil path which led you to trufandom. . . . .

JOHN KAISER'S FLYER
HAS LANDED OVER
HELIUM AND A
MULTITUDE OF SOLDIERS
AND WARRIORS HAVE ASSEMBLED TO GREET
HIM..

KAOR! JOHN KAISER!

PSST! "JL" COM'ND
OUT, WE'VE GOT
100,000 WARRIORS
OUT HERE AND THEY'RE
SEE YOU
SEE YOU

I CAN'T GET MY FLYING
HARNESS !!
LOOSE

