HET BPMA № 246

Published for the 269th Distribution of APA L, 9 July 1970, by Bruce Pelz, 1534 15th St., Apt. 3, Santa Monica, CA 90404. (213-451-4180). IncuNebulous Publication 767. Actatus, Catipta, Itapan, Marnutus...

Treasury Report for the week of 2 July 1970:

Attendance: Paid by meeting: 29
Paid by year: 14
New members: 1
Deadbeats: 5
TOTAL: 49

Main Treasury: Old Balance: $130.43 Income: Dues: + 14.50 Membership fee: + 3.00

Expense: Pues to B.F.: - 14.50

New Balance: $133.43

New Member: Lois Newman

Building Fund: Old Balance: $10,965.59 Donations: Alan Frisbie: 50.00 Bill Warren: 1.00 Bill Welden: 2.00 Anon. Blue Slp: 5.00 Marsha Brown: .59 Ed Finkelstein: 50 .01 Barry Gold: Miscellaneous: 30.28 Dues: Sale of pins: 3.00 Misc. sales etc: 3.70 Total income: 110.58

Total income: 110.58

New Balance: $11,076.17

NOTES FOR AN OPUS: II

Overture: Filksinger (spoken): But first you will hear filksong fandom's tale sung of the Trufan Ted Leigh, known as "Deadly Duper":

ACT I:

A worldcon in London. The pros are swaggering, the neos are goshwowing, the hucksters are huckstering. A filksinger is singing a filksong.

The Filksong Tale of Deadly Duper

Filksinger: Now the neo uses hekto for the feudzines he has planned, But Ted Leigh has a Gestetner against which no foe can stand.

And the neo's hands turn purple when he goes to run his zinc:

"Deadly Duper" throws a switch and ev'rything stays very clean...

On a lovely blue-gray ev'ning vowed a neo he would quit -Poker, Fandom...maybe living... "Deadly" doesn't give a shit.

And Ron Stacy gafiated just like other faned guys;
His collection's part of "Deadly's" -- but to prove it no one tries.

Billy Morrison was busted, stoned on grass and holding, too --Someone musthhave blown the whistle; "Deadly Duper" can't think who...

When the fire that razed the Slanshack turned collections into ash "Deadly" somehow found replacements -- till the fans ran out of cash.

And the 15-year-old femme-fan at his party got quite stewed...
It's not safe to crash at Deadly's; all too often you'll get screwed
It's not safe to crash at Deadly's; all too often you'll get screwed