GNURRSERY STORY (with vague apologies to Dean Grennell for swiping the title):

There once was a fan who went to a convention and spent his time chasing a femmefan in hopes of getting laid. By the last night of the con, every approach had been tried but the Very Direct, so he tried that. Taking her to his room he said: "Femme, femme, jump into bed, or I shall not get laid tonight!"

"I won't," said the Femme.

T H E H E I C O N O C L A S T

It started by Marsha Brown teaming up with the California Highway Patrol to prevent me from taking my three cameras to Europe, and it ended with my getting several things through Customs into the United States that I wasn't sure I could get away with. In between was London, Liverpool, Oxford, Bristol, Bath, Heidelberg, and Amsterdam, and four weeks of one of the best trips I've ever taken. There were the foreseen problems of Not-Enough-Time and Not-Enough-Money, and the unforeseen phenomenon that Bob Silverberg terms "Sprechen sie foreign?" There were fans of many countries and several languages. And there was the first Trult International World SF Convention. The sum of everything was Heicon '70, and I'll try to tell you about it.
