and it is respectfully dedicated to people with money, storage space and a desire to own back issues of various fanzines as well as science fiction magazines and paper-backs. At present, yours truly has only the last qualification and it does not seem to be sufficient to offset the lack of the first two. Our recent return to California was my third move in less than two years and from the looks of things the immediate future will run to about the same specifications. Frankly, as much as I've enjoyed my sf and fanzine collections I just can't afford the time, money and effort involved in packing and unpacking them constantly, nor do I have the storage space required to just let them sit for umpteen years until I manage to become "permanently" located. After much painful indecision I have finally come to the conclusion that the most sensible thing to do is (sob!) sell off almost everything and apply the proceeds towards an electric typewriter for use in typing my thesis and future issues of this and perhaps other fanzines. Since I could move again as soon as February, the following items are hereby listed for immediate sale, the sooner the better. All items post-paid, first-come-first-served, please list alternate choices and like that, and 100% money-back guarantee. If the price on anything doesn't seem right please don't hesitate to make me an offer of your own--I'm trying to be open-minded about the whole thing.

*****

FANZINES - FANZINES - FANZINES

I've hardened my heart and even decided to pass on all but my very favorite fanzines - most of these are from the '50s but some are relatively recent. They have proven very difficult to price because of age, sentiment (sniff!) and the fact that postage and wrapping will be significant -- so if you don't like the prices or would like a bulk rate, make me an offer...

This "Special Huckster issue" is being circulated through FAPA Mailing #109, to the stateside portion of the waiting-list, plus a selected number of names from a now-defunct advertising fanzine called THE FANTASY COLLECTOR for a total run of approximately 125 copies. The non-FAPA copies will be mailed on November 16th in order to keep the "first come, first served" timing nearly equal.
