Vegrant Images

Life as a Vegrant? Life of a Vegrant? Life with a Vegrant? What's the topic? In any case Viva Vegranti!

Ray and I don't attend fan social functions as much as I'd like to. People think that since there are just the two of us (wrong) and we don't have any family (wrong) that we have oodles of time at our disposal. It seems as though the older we get, the more there is to do just to keep up with life. Perhaps it's the biological time clock that's slowing down and making it seem that there's more with which to contend. At the end of a work day there's not much energy left to flit socially. There are times when I do regret this, but I was raised to believe that if you have the energy to go out on a work night, you didn't work hard enough during the day. Also, I would not have the opportunity, such as this, to fantasize about what it would be like if.... In this instance, male Las Vegrants are the subjects of my thoughts. You see, there is actually a Marcy within a Marcy, and the outer defenses allow only rare glimpses of "worldydom" to the free spirit within. Besides, you know what "they" say about teachers. Right Tammy?

So as not to shock all of fandom with wildest dreams about what the "other" Marcy would and could do with, to, at, over, under (you get the idea) male Vegrants if she were set free, I will tastefully limit my observations to what most attracts me to each of them.

Ray Waldie: This is the exception to the above statement. I ain't revealing nothing 'bout him so's no femfan will try to move in on MY territory after 29 years.

Arnie Katz: Mmmmm. The consistent, masterful way in which he always conducts himself; his authoritative, commanding voice; the puns that leave me shaking my head; that boyish smirk; the increased animation when he gets excited about something....

Bill Kunkel: Yow! The way he speaks his mind as others wish they could (and sometimes should); the way he speaks through his art....

Ross Chamberlain:

Hmmm. His sophisticated style in just being himself; his subtle humor; the poise he exhibits as though he is in the presence of royalty; the sudden, unexpected one-liners that break everyone up....

JoHn Hardin: The way he carries himself with confidence; the shyness that peeks through that confidence on occasion; a wit so quick that I wonder if his brain ever has any down time; his blond hair....

Tom Springer: The way he speaks with conviction; the magnetism he generates; his laugh; his constant, fun-loving mood....

Ken Forman: The way he always appears to be in control; his selfless generosity; his sensitivity; his energy; his cooking; his name....

Ron Pehr: The attentive way in which he quietly observes and absorbs information and then speaks only when it is relevant and contributory; his relationship with Chelsea (I'm jealous)....

Ben Wilson: The pleasantries he performs for others; the genuine concern and consideration he shows for those about whom he cares; his shy, boyish demeanor....

Eric Davis: His inner strength and emotional maturity; his strong, manly presence; I'd better stop now....

Woody Bernardi: His soft, soothing voice; his innocence; the peacefulness within himself....

To say that these are the sexiest men I know in all of fandom is true with the inclusion of Charles Burbee - his way with words and his laugh - and Andy Hooper - his gentleness tempered with inner strength. Of course, after having met so many other delicious interesting male fans at Corflu, my list is rapidly growing.

I cannot sense when the inner Marcy will peer through the facade of innocence and naivete to put her secret thoughts in print. I claim no responsibility.
